Passage

New Delhi India is set to surpass China as the world's most populous country in 2023, with each counting more than 1.4 billion residents this year, a United Nations report said on Monday, warning that high fertility would challenge economic growth.

The world's population, estimated to reach 8 billion by November 15 this year, could grow to 8.5 billion in 2030, and 10.4 billion in 2100, as the pace of mortality slows, said the report released on World Population Day.

India's population was 1.21 billion in 2011, according to the domestic census, which is conducted once a decade. The government had deferred the 2021 census due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

The world's population was growing at its slowest pace since 1950, having fallen below 1% in 2020, UN estimates showed.

In 2021, the average fertility of the world's population stood at 2.3 births per woman over a lifetime, having fallen from about 5 births in 1950. Global fertility is projected to decline further to 2.1 births per woman by 2050.

Referring to an earlier World Health Organization report estimating about 14.9 million deaths relating to the Covid-19 pandemic between January 2020 and December 2021, the UN report said global life expectancy at birth fell to 71 years in 2021 from 72.8 years in 2019, mostly due to the pandemic.

The United Nations said more than half of the projected increase in the global population upto 2050 will be concentrated in eight countries Democratic Republic of Congo, Egypt, Ethiopia, India, Nigeria, Pakistan, the Philippines and Tanzania.

Countries of sub-Saharan Africa are expected to contribute more than half of the increase anticipated through 2050.

However, the population of 61 countries is projected to decrease by 1% or more between 2022 and 2050, driven by a fall in fertility.

At the end of 2020, there were 82.4 million forcibly displaced people in the world, of which more than a quarter are refugees.

"By the end of 2020, the number of people forcibly displaced due to persecution, conflict, violence, human rights violations, and events seriously disturbing public order, had grown to 82.4 million, the highest number on record according to available data," according to the UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR). Out of these 82.4 million forcibly displaced people in the world, more than a quarter are refugees.

Just five countries produce 68% of all refugees displaced abroad: the Syrian Arab Republic, Venezuela, Afghanistan, South Sudan, and Myanmar.

The top five host countries, where these displaced people are currently located are: Turkey, Colombia, Germany, Pakistan, and Uganda.

With 3.7 million displaced people now within its borders, Turkey hosts twice as many refugees as Colombia, the next highest host country, with 1.7 million people. The situation in Turkey illustrates the effects of proximity, as 92% of its refugees have come from neighbouring Syria, where war and armed conflict have now been raging for more than 10 years. It demonstrates that huge numbers of displaced people stay close to their point of origin.

There are more than 48 million internally displaced people. People who have had to flee their homes in search of safety elsewhere within their home nation.

The highest increases in the number of internally displaced people happened in Africa and were provoked by a combination of armed conflict and humanitarian disasters. Civil war in Ethiopia, Africa's second most-populated country, has sparked a wave of displacement in a region that was already facing what the UNHCR calls "a full-scale humanitarian crisis."

All in all, more than a million Ethiopian people had to leave their homes behind last year, the UNHCR says.

Passage

The savanna landscape is typified by tall grass and short trees. It is rather misleading to call the savanna 'tropical grassland', because trees are always present with the luxuriant tall grass. The terms 'parkland' or 'bush-veld' perhaps describe the landscape better.

Trees grow best towards the equatorial humid latitudes or along river banks but decrease in height and density away from the equator. They occur in clumps or as scattered individuals.

The trees are deciduous, shedding their leaves in the cool, dry season to prevent excessive loss of water through transpiration, e.g. acacias. Others have broad trunks, with water-storing devices to survive through the prolonged drought such as baobabs and bottle trees. Trees are mostly hard, gnarled and thorny and may exude gum like gum arabic. Many trees are umbrella shaped, exposing only a narrow edge to the strong winds.

Palms which cannot withstand the drought are confined to the wettest areas or along rivers. Vegetative luxuriance reaches its peak in the rainy season, when trees renew their foliage and flower. In true savanna lands, the grass is tall and coarse, growing 6 to 12 feet high. The elephant grass may attain a height of even 15 feet! The grass tends to grow in compact tufts and has long roots which reach down in search of water. It appears greenish and well-nourished in the rainy season but turns yellow and dies down in the dry season that follows. The grass lies dormant throughout the long, rainless period and springs up again in the next rainy season.

In between the tall grass are scattered short trees and low bushes. As the rainfall diminishes towards the deserts the savanna merges into thorny scrub. In Australia, this scrub land is particularly well represented by a number of species: mallee, mulga, spinifex grass and other bushes.

The savanna, particularly in Africa, is the home of wild animals. It is known as the 'big game country' and thousands of animals are trapped or killed each year by people from all over the world. Some of the animals are tracked down for their skins, horns, tusks, bones or hair, others are captured alive and sent out of Africa as zoo animals, laboratory specimens or pets.

There is such a wealth of animal life in Africa that many of the animal films that we see at the cinema are actually taken in the savanna. There are, in fact, two main groups of animals in the savanna, the grass-eating herbivorous animals and the flesh-eating carnivorous animals. The herbivorous animals are often very alert and move swiftly from place to place in search of green pastures.

They are endowed with great speed to run away from the savage flesh-eaters that are always after them. The leaf and grass-eating animals include the zebra, antelope, giraffe, deer, gazelle, elephant and okapi.

Many are well camouflaged species and their presence amongst the tall greenish-brown grass cannot be easily detected. The giraffe with such a long neck can locate its enemies a great distance away, while the elephant is so huge and strong that few animals will venture to come near it. It is well equipped with tusks and trunk for defence.

The carnivorous animals like the lion, tiger, leopard, hyena, panther, jaguar, jackal, lynx and puma have powerful jaws and teeth for attacking other animals. Their natural colorings of light yellowish-brown, often with stripes like the tiger or spots like the leopard, match perfectly with the tawny background of the savanna. They often hide themselves in shady spots up in the branches or amidst the tall bushes, and many wild animals, as well as hunters themselves, are caught unawares in this manner.

Passage

A new and extreme tourist attraction has just exploded on to the scene in Iceland: Volcano Walking. It would appear, according to Trip Advisor, that this is one trip that cannot be missed, despite the extortionate cost.

The idea of making Thrihnukagigur volcano accessible was the brainchild of Ami B. Stefansson, a doctor in Reykjavik and a lifelong cave enthusiast. He has been studying caves in Iceland since 1954 and some would argue that there is no-one who has more experience. Thrihnukagigur has always been special to Stefansson ever since he was the first to descend down to the crater base in 1974. Like most people who experience it, he was utterly spellbound by its uniqueness and beauty and made it his mission to protect and preserve this stunning natural phenomenon. Unlike others who may have only seen the profit that could be made from walking into the mouth of a volcano, Stefansson believed that the primary focus was to treat such a grand natural wonder with the utmost respect, to protect and defend it. The first 'volcano tourists' entered the volcano in 2005 and it has since been labelled as one of the most unique tourist attractions in the world.

Volcano walkers are taken to the mouth of the crater from where they are lowered in a basket into the depths of the earth. People once thought that volcanoes were portals to Hell and associated with death and destruction and yet the entrance to the crater is awe-inspiring and almost ethereal. The vastness of it can feel overwhelming; it is the size of a cathedral and the Statue of Liberty could easily fit into the shaft. After 6 minutes and 120 metres, visitors arrive at the crater base. The ground space is the size of three full-sized basketball courts placed next to each

At the bottom there is a reverent hush. People whisper in respect to the sleeping giant who has lain dormant for 4,000 years. The subterranean walls are scorched with colours from a divine palette: magenta red, vibrant purple, burnt orange, vivid green and honey yellow. The colour intensifies in certain places where 4000 years ago the magma was pushed out with brutal force. This is Mother Nature's secret place, her private art studio where visitors feel like trespassers. The protruding rock faces show a tapestry of patterns and formations that have been molded by heat, pressure and time. Floodlights illuminate the walls and draw attention to the beauty humans were never intended to see. A light rain weeps from the porous rock above and covers the crater sides with a shine that makes it sparkle. The scorch marks can be seen close up at one point in time these rock faces were glowing red with fiery heat. This giant, although sleeping, is still dangerous: an 80-metre drop into the void is disguised by a collection of rocks close to where visitors stand.

It is a soul-enriching experience and visitors often report feeling deeply moved by the beauty and tranquillity of something that was once so destructive and angry. Confronted with this result of the unrestrained forces of nature, it is hard not to feel small and powerless in comparison. Sadly, the magical spell is broken when the basket appears, indicating that it is time for visitors to return to reality. On the return hike, visitors walk across the lava fields as though they are astronauts on the moon. They pass enormous open wounds where the landscape is literally tearing itself apart as tectonic plates slowly shift. It serves as one final reminder that this giant is merely dormant, not dead.

जब point of time दिया हो तो since का use किया जाता है।

Regular Respected actions, Habitual sent, Universal truth, General facts etc. Present simple tense में show किये जाते हैं। Present simple में 3rd Person singular person के साथ does तथा other personal person pronoun के साथ plural verb do का use किया जाता है।

यदि sentence positive हो तो Question-tag Negative तथा sentence Negative हो तो Question tag positive बनता है।

Given sentence में question-tag में auxiliary verb do/does का use होगा। अतः isn't के स्थान doesn't का use होगा।

Grammar Point

Question-tag बनाने के Rules—

यदि statement positive है तो question-tag में verb negative होगा तथा यदि statement negative है तो question-tag में verb positive होगा।

Auxiliary verb, statement में तथा question tag में same होती है।

यदि statement में कोई auxiliary verb ना हो तो tag में do/does/did का use किया जाता है according to the tense.

यदि statement में subject noun use हुआ हो तो उसे noun के according, pronoun में change कर लिया जाता है और यदि subject कोई personal pronoun हो तो उसी pronoun को question-tag में use किया जाता है।

Eg. Debbie has a really busy life, doesn't she? He doesn't have much go about him, does he?

अतः correct answer option (a) है।

32. (d) 'in' in place of 'at'

Development in something का structure होता है।

There were cardboard boxes stuffed full of clothes.

Other structure of Development :

Something In development

Eg. A more powerful version of this electric bus is currently in development.

Something Under development.

Eg. A new vaccine is under development.

अतः correct answer option (a) है।

34. (d) 'Themselves' in place of 'himself'
Pronoun का use 'Noun' के according होता है।

Given sentence में these children plural noun

है इसलिए reflexive 'themselves' आएगा।

क्रिया का प्रभाव object पर पड़ता है। लेकिन जब कभी क्रिया का प्रभाव subject पर ही पड़े यानि Object स्वयं subject ही होता है, तो ऐसे Sentences में object के रूप में subject के अनुसार उक्तका reflexive pronoun का use किया जाता है।

अतः correct answer option (d) होगा।

35. (c) 'page ten' in place of 'page tenth'

Preposition के बाद prepositional object के रूप में 'Noun / Noun phrase and Pronoun' का ही use किया जाता है। Adjective कभी भी Preposition का object नहीं बन सकता है।

Given sentence में 'page tenth' (tenth ordinal adjective) का use Prepositional object के रूप में किया गया है जो कि grammatically wrong है। अतः इसे Noun Phrase 'Page ten' में change करना होगा।

Eg. Turn to page 64.

I'd like you to look at the diagram on page 27.

अतः correct answer option (c) है।

36. (c) 'faster' in place of 'fast'

Much के बाद यदि कोई adj use किया जाता है तो यह comparative form में use किया जाता है।

Eg. Much better, Much sooner

अतः correct answer option (c) है।

जब has/have/had का use auxiliary verb के रूप में किया जाता है तो इसके बाद main verb की 3rd form प्रयुक्त होती है।

Inversion

• English में normal word order है—
Subject + verb
Eg: The shape (subject) looked (verb) like an inverted V.

• जब हम इस normal word order (subject + verb) को invert (बदलना) कर देते हैं अर्थात् पहले verb फिर subject (verb + subject) तो यह act inversion कहलाता है।

English में inversion मुख्यतः दो प्रकार से होता है—

(A) Auxiliary verb before subject

(B) Whole verb before subject

(A) Auxiliary verb before subject

कुछ structure ऐसी होती है जिनमें auxiliary verb (तथा non-auxiliary have व be) को subject से बिल्कुल पहले रखते हैं।

(1) Questions

Questions में इन inversion का concept apply करते हैं।

Eg: When is Rex leaving?

- Have you received my letter of July 07?
- How much does the box cost?
- Do you like James Bond?
- Can you tell me the time?

NOTE 1 : Indirect या reported questions में inversion नहीं करते हैं। इन questions में subject सामान्यतः verb से पहले आता है तथा auxiliary 'do' व question mark use नहीं होते हैं।

Eg: I asked where Julia was.

- He wanted to know when I was leaving.
- I wondered what time the concert was starting.

NOTE 2 : Formal writing में जब subject बड़ा हो तो 'how' के साथ indirect questions में भी inversion प्रयुक्त होता है।

Eg: I wondered how reliable was the information I had been given.

NOTE 3 : कुछ sentence questions जैसे प्रतीत होते हैं लेकिन actual में questions होते नहीं हैं। इन questions में inversion use नहीं किया जाता है।

Eg: They are bound to ask us why the order was cancelled. (✓)

- They are bound to ask us why did we cancel the order. (✗)

NOTE 4 : कुछ questions लम्बे होते हैं जिनमें inversion initial phrase में होता है। यदि किसी question में beginning में inversion आ चुका है तो उस question में main part में दूसरा inversion नहीं आएगा। इन questions का initial phrase इस प्रकार से होता है— "could you tell me..." and "would you mind..." etc.

Eg: Would you be so kind as to tell me where the money is? (✓)

- Would you be so kind as to tell me where is the money? (✗)

NOTE 5 : कुछ sentences जो question जैसे दिखते हैं but actual में enquiry करने के लिए होते हैं। इनमें inversion use नहीं किया जाता है।

Eg: I wonder if you could tell me when the next train to Jaipur is due. (✓)

- I wonder if you could tell me when is the next train to Jaipur due. (✗)

(2) Exclamations

Eg: Isn't it cold!

- Hasn't she got lovely eyes!
- Have you got a surprise coming!

'How' and 'what' के बाद भी कभी-कभार inversion पाया जाता है।

Eg: How beautiful are the flowers!

- What a peaceful place is Jhunjhunu!

(3) May के साथ

Wishes में may, subject से पहले आता है।

Eg: May all your wishes come true!

- May he rot in hell!

(4) Conditional Clauses

Conditional clauses में if को हटाकर, auxiliary verb को subject से पहले रखकर भी sentence बनाया जा सकता है। यह inversion सामान्यतः were, had तथा should के साथ प्रयुक्त होता है।

Eg: Were she my daughter... (= If she were my daughter...)

- Had I realized what you intended... (= If I had realized...)

- Should you change your mind... (= If you should change)

- Were I you, I think I would study more for your exam tomorrow.

- Had I remembered Julia's birthday, she wouldn't be mad at me now.

- Should you come to Jaipur, you must visit me.

NOTE - Negatives को contracted form में प्रयुक्त नहीं करते हैं।

Eg: Had we not missed the plane, we would all have been killed in the crash.

- [Hadn't we missed... (x)]

- Had we not spent all our money already...

- [Hadn't we spent... (x)]

(5) Negative adverbs के बाद

यदि कोई negative adverb या adverbial expression किसी clause के beginning में emphasis के लिए रखा जाता है तो सामान्यतः inversion प्रयुक्त होता है।

Eg: Under no circumstances can we cash cheques.

- Under no circumstances should you leave the door unlocked.

- Under no circumstances can we accept credit cards.

NOTE - Under no circumstances ऐसे rules को describe करने के लिए प्रयुक्त होता है जहां कोई exception नहीं हो।

Eg: Under no circumstances will prisoners allowed to give interviews to the media.

इसका normal sentence इस प्रकार बनेगा—

Prisoners will not be allowed to give interviews to the media under any circumstances.

- In no way can he be held responsible.

- In no way could I help you with your French grammar question.

- At no time did she say she would come.

- At no time did the prisoner look as if he might confess.
- Not until much later did she learn who her real father was.
- Nowhere have I ever had such bad service.
- On no account should you do anything without asking me first.
- Not a single word did he say.

- Seldom had he seen such a beauty.

NOTE - जब seldom को sentence के beginning में रखते हैं तो हम inversion use में लेते हैं।

Eg: Seldom have I seen such beautiful work. इस sentence में इस भाव पर emphasis दिया गया है कि work बहुत beautiful है। यह quite formal structure है।

यदि sentence को seldom से begin नहीं करते तो normal structure इस प्रकार बनती—

Eg: I have seldom seen such beautiful work.

Rarely

- Rarely did he pay anyone a compliment.
- Rarely has a debate attracted so much media attention.
- Rarely will you hear such beautiful music.

NOTE - Rarely एक adverb है जब यह subject के बाद आता है तो inversion नहीं होता है but जब यह subject से पहले आता है तो inversion का use किया जाता है। inversion वाले sentence में auxiliary verb (do, does, etc.) प्रयुक्त होती है, ठीक उसी प्रकार जैसे questions में। यद्यपि यहाँ inversion वाला sentence कोई question नहीं है।

Eg: John rarely speaks to himself. (normal sentence)

Rarely does John speak to himself. (inversion)

Little

- Little did he imagine how dangerous it would be.

- Little did he realize the danger he faced.

इस sentence का अर्थ है—उस लड़की को दिल्कुल भी यह अहसास नहीं था कि उसकी grandmother एक wolf थी।

इन दोनों sentences में हम objects (apples and mangoes) को compare कर रहे हैं।

जब हम subjects को compare करते हैं तब inversion अनिवार्य होता है।

Word Meanings

- + Atmosphere (N) - The mixture of gases that surrounds the earth (वायुमण्डल)
- + Fuels (N) - Any material that produces heat or power, usually when it is burnt (ईंधन)
- + Coal (N) - A hard black mineral that is found below the ground and burnt to produce heat (कोयला)
- + Trap (V) - To force somebody/something into a place or situation that they cannot escape from, especially in order to catch them (पकड़ना, कैद करना)

Detailed Analysis

141. (a) Effect

Greenhouse effect / gas / heater का collocation होता है।

Eg. Global warming is otherwise known as the greenhouse effect.

अतः सही answer option (b) effect है।

Vocabulary Point

Effect/affect

Effect formally as a Noun use किया जाता है जिसका अर्थ होता है 'Result'

Eg. The beneficial effects of exercise.

Does television affect children's behaviour?

Affect formally as a verb use किया जाता है। जिसका अर्थ होता है प्रभावित करना

Eg. How will these changes affect us?

यह कभी भी Noun की तरह use नहीं किया जाता है।

Aspect (V) का अर्थ— "किसी situation, idea या problem के विशेष भाग" होता है।

Eg. The most important aspect of the debate.

Impact (V) - "किसी व्यक्ति/वस्तु पर powerful effect का होना" होता है।

Eg. Her father's death impacted greatly on her childhood years.

142. (b) More

More का use किसी चीज के औसत और पहले से अधिक हो जाने की स्थिति को indicate करने के

लिए उस Noun के पहले किया जाता है।

Eg. Add some more cream to the souce.

Sentence में बताया गया है कि fossils fuel जैसे coal and oil के जलाने के कारण वातावरण में पहले से मौजूद carbon dioxide की मात्रा को बढ़ा दिया है अतः more (Adj.) correct answer है।

Option (a) much red herring है।

Much (Adj.) को use uncountable noun के साथ अधिक quantity को show करने के अर्थ में किया जाता है। Blank space के बाद carbon dioxide (Material noun) uncountable Noun है। लेकिन sentence में इसकी quantity नहीं show की जा रही है।

Option (c) Many (Adj.) grammatically wrong है। Many countable noun के साथ उसकी बहुत अधिक संख्या (लेकिन indefinite number में) show करने के लिए किया जाता है।

Eg. Were there many children at the party?

Option (d) Most irrelevant है। Most adjective के रूप में किसी Noun की greatest quantity or Number show करने के लिए किया जाता है।

Eg. Who do you think will get most votes.

I spent most time on the first question.

143. (d) Observed

यहां blank space से पहले helping verb has आयी है। अतः Present perfect tense की structure 'Sub. + has/have + V3' form + obj.' होती है।

Eg. He has worked as a teacher for two years.

अतः option (d) Observed सही answer है।

शेष options grammatically wrong है।

144. (b) our

Backward reading से, our atmosphere use हुआ है अतः parallel construction से our atmosphere use होगा।

अतः option (b) 'our' सही answer है।

शेष options grammatically wrong है।

145. (d) cause

Sentence में बताया गया है कि आवश्यकता से अधिक greenhouse gases earth's atmosphere में more heat trap करने का कारण बनती है। अतः सही answer option (d) cause है।

Cause (V) का अर्थ— "कुछ घटित होने का कारण होना विशेषकर कुछ बुरा" होता है।

Eg. Smoking is the leading cause of lung cancer.

Option (b) Reason Red herring है। Reason का अर्थ होता है किसी situation or action के facts को consider करते हुए उसकी एक explanation or judgment show करना होता है। जबकि sentence में ऐसा कोई भाव नहीं है।

Reason का अर्थ— "परिणाम निकालना" होता है।

Eg. They reasoned, correctly, that the enemy would not attempt an attack at night.

Option (c) source irrelevant है।

Source का अर्थ— "किसी particular place से कुछ प्राप्त करना" होता है।

Eg. All our vegetables are locally sourced.

Direction (171-200): Read the given passage and answer the questions that follow.

Passage

A piano teacher described an interesting encounter she had had with a young lady who came to inquire about music lessons. The young lady asked her, "How long will this course take? My father tells me that it is in fashion now to be able to play musical instruments and that I should learn one quickly. I want something that will be quick, fast and easy like, like..." When the amused teacher explained that it would take a lifetime of meticulous practice to learn music, her face fell and, needless to say, she never came back. The single most important factor that distinguishes those of us who succeed in any venture and those of us who don't is this 'instant coffee' attitude. Most of us want results quickly. We want to reach the top immediately and get worked up when things go wrong. Perseverance and patience are forgotten words. We get upset, frustrated, and angry when a skill or activity requires us to put in a lot of effort and time. We get dejected and want to give it up. But such thinking serves no good. For, it doesn't solve the problem. Life is tough for those with an 'instant coffee' attitude. Success, real success and happiness come to those who have a 'bread-making' attitude those who are willing to knead the dough, wait for hours for it to rise, only to punch it down and knead some more, wait for another couple of hours for it to rise again, and then bake it before it is ready to be eaten. Nothing is instantaneous. For every endeavour whether in the area of career, academics, music, sports, relationships, physical fitness or even in spirituality it is a long, arduous journey. Only if we are willing to put in the time, painstaking effort and have faith, can we get results. If we don't accept this difficult-but-true fact of life, our lives will be far from being happy and fulfilling. For we may not make that extra effort which can change the course of life dramatically, for the good. The major problems with these 'instant coffee' solutions are that they are invariably short lived. If we stubbornly refuse to give up this search for quick solutions, all we do is end up on the wrong track.

Passage

You go up a dark, rickety stairwell of a building on a crowded street in Calcutta. You enter a small room. The centre of the room is empty but the corners are stacked with bedrolls, utensils and water bottles. Musical instruments, drums, cymbals and gongs are piled in a corner. Today, the room is filled with the laughter of men and women in colourful attire. Among the happy chorus of congratulations and laughter, the bride Chumki Pal and the groom Sandeep can be seen smiling. They are both blind, as are most of the people surrounding them. Pal is wearing a bright turquoise blue sari. "I know it's blue because people have told me but I can't imagine how it looks. But believe me, when I dream, I dream only in colours," she says. Their romance blossomed when they met as members of Blind Opera, the only one of its kind in the country as well as in Asia. The 36 spirited members of Blind Opera demonstrate that physical disability is not an obstacle. They enact plays by Rabindranath Tagore, considered challenging even by veteran theatre groups. Blind Opera was launched in 1996 by four theatre aficionados, who took it as a challenge to get together the talents of these visually impaired people. The challenge to present the cast on stage is immense since space management is a problem. To solve this, the directors use ropes to separate the stage and the wings. When the actors step on the rope they know that it is the entrance to the stage. The members cannot see, but they can smell, hear and touch three elements inherent to any theatre. At Blind Opera, they "believe that the blind can see. That is, they see in their own way, if not in our way, with the help of these abilities." For the visually impaired, theatre is the medium for expression of their creative urges. They respond instinctively; they cannot copy anyone else because they cannot see. Their body language tells the story and hence it is very spontaneous. The members have earned kudos from Calcutta audiences. For the members of the troupe, discovering the language of the body is in a way also a journey of the persona. Coming from diverse backgrounds but bound together by the same disability, they have found an outlet for their creativity through the plays. They do not feel isolated anymore because they can relate to their fellow performers. There is also a greater purpose behind it: to use theatre to build a community and mainstream the huge number of disabled living in isolation. Together they can be a force to demand better facilities in public life. Blind children should enter the mainstream from the beginning. The big dream of the group is to establish a drama school following the ideal of Tagore's Shantiniketan, offering a platform for creative expression to all those who are economically and socially forced to stay in the periphery. Like Chumki Pal, they all dream in colour.

Passage

In the stress-ridden world, traditional pastimes that could prove therapeutic are dying for want of patronage. One such is the art of puppetry. The word "puppet" is derived from the Latin word pupa, meaning "doll" or "girl". Puppets came into being in India in the third century A.D. Here it was honed into a theatrical art. It helped to propagate the works of saints and religious leaders, and also depict stories from epics. Later, it spread to South East Asia. The Cambodian puppeteers inspired the Thais. Java and Bali followed though it didn't catch on in Sumatra. The Malays followed the Siamese and Japanese styles in the nineteenth century. Gradually, puppets became more sophisticated in appearance, as skilled craftsmen began to make the models. Puppeteers became trained as performers. In the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, puppet theatres became extremely popular in artistic circles. Writers like George Sands and Goethe organised their own well-prepared puppet shows to entertain their friends. Puppet shows have been mentioned in the literature by Shakespeare, Ben Johnson, and many others. Basically, there are three kinds of puppets. Shadow puppets are made of translucent leather and coloured vegetable dyes. Buffalo, goat, or sheep skin is treated to become translucent.

Limbs are loosely-jointed so that they can be made to move separately. A stick is attached vertically in the middle. Movement of the stick causes general movements. But for special movements, single strings attached to the limbs are used. These leather puppets are projected on a screen, which is illuminated by a light source placed behind the puppets. The puppeteer manipulates the puppets to form moving shadows on the screen. He also speaks the parts, sings, or is accompanied by music.

String puppets involve puppets that are manipulated by six strings. The performance is on a stage but the puppeteers are never seen. They wear anklets which produce the illusion that the puppets themselves are dancing. The main storyteller recites the storyline, while the puppets perform, and the dialogue and music are provided by the puppeteers. Rod or stick puppets are constructed around the main central rod. A short horizontal bar serves as the shoulders, from which the upper limbs dangle. The arms, made of cloth and stuffed with straw or paper, are jointed or manipulated with other thinner rods. These puppet can be the size of a human being. The puppeteer hides behind the puppet and manipulates it. The coordination of the limbs comes only through practice. Puppetry is a good communication medium.

Messages can be propagated in a realistic way. Puppet making and performing is good occupational therapy for convalescents and physically disabled people. Muscular coordination and manual dexterity improve with effort. However, the best use of this art is that it can provide delightful hours of fun to young and old alike.

Passage

Although pollution of land, sea, and air has been well documented, the latest and the least recognised version is the swelling tide of noise which is engulfing urban as well as rural areas. This has long-term implications on the ecology, health and productivity of a fast developing country like India. Unlike other pollutants, noise lacks visibility, seldom registering on the consciousness, except as a trifling irritant to be dismissed at will and therefore less likely to be perceived as a threat. Available data indicates that noise does pose a threat to health and is known to have caused a number of complications. Declining productivity among workers in certain industries has been directly correlated with noise levels, particularly those under constant exposure to the menace.

The first-ever survey of the impact of noise on health, conducted by All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), has established that noise not only impairs the physical and psychological functioning of the human organism but also causes nausea, vomiting, pain, hypertension and a lot of other complications, including cardio-vascular complaints.

A study by Post Graduate School of Basic Medical Sciences, Chennai, confirms such conclusions. In 50 per cent of industries, it was found that workmen exposed to higher intensities of noise in occupational capacities were often irritated, short-tempered, and impatient and more likely to resort to agitation and disrupt production. This was true of units in heavy industrial pockets in and around the four metropolitan centres.

Recreational noise, another ugly facet, is becoming more widespread in cities and towns. Loudspeakers are turned at full volume during marriages, festivals, jagrans, musical programmes, particularly at night, without the least consideration for others. Even at 50 dB, sound can awaken a person from a deep slumber. As experiments have shown, loud speaker with output from 60 to 80 dB cause the pupils of a slumbering person to dilate, with increasing intake of oxygen, resulting in palpitation. The effect is more pronounced in narrow lanes. TV sets are played at full volume at prime time, invariably disturbing neighbours. Noise making seems to have become the latest status symbol, be it an election campaign or slogan shouting or advertising ownership of a TV set.

196. In what way does noise become a status symbol?

- (a) Exposing workmen to high intensity sounds
- (b) Showing off the loud volume of one's TV

- (a) heart related complaints
- (b) eye infections

- (a) it does not impact the productivity of the workers in industries
- (b) it is regarded as a small irritant which may be easily dismissed
- (c) it is not detrimental to our health in any way
- (d) it is prevalent only in the urban areas of the country

199. Recreational noise is created during:

- (a) discord between agitated workers
- (b) running of heavy machinery
- (c) weddings and festivals
- (d) shouting of slogans

200. Which of the following statements is FALSE?

- (d) Noise pollution is not visible to the eyes.

❖ Conditional Sentences

जब किसी sentence में कोई condition दी जाती है जो किसी दूसरी situation के घटित होने या ना होने को बताती है तो ऐसे sentence को conditional sentence कहते हैं।

Conditional sentence के दो part होते हैं— conditional part and main part.

Conditional words (i.e. if, unless, until, in case, provided that, on condition that, etc.) जिस part में होते हैं वह part conditional part कहलाता है।

दूसरा part main part कहलाता है। इन दोनों parts में से कोई भी part पहले आ सकता है, सामान्यतः हम जिस part पर stress देना चाहते हैं उसे पहले रखते हैं।

There are four types of conditional sentences:

1. Open Condition
2. Improbable Condition
3. Imaginary Condition
4. Unfulfilled Condition

1. Open Condition : Open Condition किसी possible condition और उसके probable result को बताती है।

Open condition को बताने के लिए conditional part- present simple में तथा main part Future simple या modal simple की Present form (i.e. can, may, will, shall, etc.) में होना चाहिए।

Passage

In the late 18th century the Industrial Revolution began to transform life in Britain. Until then, most people lived in the countryside and made their living from farming. By the mid-19th century most people in Britain lived in towns and made their living from mining or manufacturing industries.

In 1712 a man named Thomas Newcomen (1663-1729) made primitive steam engines for pumping water from mines. In 1769 James Watt (1736-1819) patented a more efficient steam engine. In 1785 his engine was adapted to driving machinery in a cotton factory. The use of steam engines to drive machines slowly transformed industry.

Meanwhile, during the 1700s Britain built up a great overseas empire. The North American colonies were lost after the War of Independence 1776-1783. On the other hand, after the Seven Years War 1756-1763, Britain captured Canada and India. Britain also took Dominica, Grenada, St. Vincent and Tobago in the West Indies. In 1707 the Act of Union was passed. Scotland was united with England and Wales. England became part of Great Britain.

Owning land was the main form of wealth in the 18th century. Political power and influence were in the hands of rich landowners. At the top were the nobility. Below them were a class of nearly rich landowners called the gentry. In the early 18th century there was another class of landowners called yeomen who were small landowners, described as farmers of the middle class. However, during the century this class became less and less numerous. However other middle class people such as merchants and professional men became richer and more numerous, especially in the towns.

Below them were the great mass of the population, craftsmen and labourers. In the 18th century probably half the population lived at subsistence or bare survival level.

In the early 18th century England suffered from gin drinking. It was cheap and it was sold everywhere as you did not need a license to sell it. Many people ruined their health by drinking gin. Sadly, for many poor people drinking gin was their only comfort. The situation improved after 1751 when a tax was imposed on gin.

At the end of the 17th century it was estimated the population of England and Wales was about 5½ million. The population of Scotland was about 1 million. The population of London was about 600,000. In the mid-18th century the population of Britain was about 6½ million. In the late 18th century it grew rapidly and by 1801 it was over 9 million. The population of London was almost 1 million.

During the 18th century, towns in Britain grew larger. Nevertheless, most towns still had populations of less than 10,000. However, in the late 18th century new industrial towns in the Midland and the North of England mushroomed. Meanwhile, the population of London grew to nearly 1 million by the end of the century. Other towns were much smaller. The population of Liverpool was about 77,000 in 1800. Birmingham had about 73,000 people and Manchester had about 70,000. Bristol had a population of about 68,000. #### Passage

The severe cyclonic storm, Nisarga, which made a landfall south of Alibag in Maharashtra's Raigad district on Wednesday at 11.30 a.m. is an indication of an increasing frequency of severe cyclones developing in the Arabian Sea in the past decade, a trend that studies have linked to climate change.

In the past two years, there have been seven cyclones in the Arabian Sea, though, according to India Meteorological Department (IMD), the ratio of cyclones in the Arabian Sea and the Bay of Bengal which just witnessed the destructive cyclone Amphan on May 21 is 1:4.

The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) last year came out with a special report, Ocean and Cryosphere in a Changing Climate, in which it said that extreme rainfall and extreme sea level events associated with some tropical cyclones are being seen to have a cascading impact on coastal areas.

"There is emerging evidence for an increase in annual global proportion of Category 4 or 5 tropical cyclones in recent decades," the IPCC report had said.

A category 4 cyclone has a wind speed of 209-251 kmph, and is referred to as an extremely severe cyclonic storm, while a category 5 cyclone has a wind speed of more than 252 kmph, and is referred to as a super cyclone.

The IPCC report refers to a 2017 study led by Atmospheric and Oceanic Sciences Program, Princeton University, USA, which found that in 2014 and 2015, post-monsoon extremely severe cyclonic storms (ESCS) were first observed over the Arabian Sea causing wide spread damage.

The study had concluded that climate change had led to an increase in the occurrence of ESCS in the Arabian Sea.

"Our research suggests that cyclones would be more frequent during the post monsoon season (October-December) by a series climate model simulations. However, we didn't find any significant changes in cyclone activity during the pre-monsoon (April-June) season through the climate simulations. It is very difficult to identify if a cyclone (like Nisarga) is generated in line with climate change," said Hiroyuki Murakami, the lead author of the study.

"Coastal hazards will be exacerbated by an increase in the average intensity, magnitude of storm surge, rising mean sea levels and precipitation rates of tropical cyclones," the IPCC report further stated.

Passage

The blowout of an Oil India Limited (OIL) gas well in Assam's Tinsukia district last week is causing extensive damage to bio diversity and wildlife in the region, including the endangered hoolock gibbons and Gangetic dolphins.

Baghjan, where the gas well blowout occurred on 27 May, is close to the Dibru-Saikhowa National Park, the Maguri-Motapung wetlands, and the forest villages of Berekuri which are habitat to the hoolock gibbon.

Uncontrollable gas flow is continuing from the gas well.

"What we are seeing is complete horror. Condensed oil is leaking continuously. The Maguri-Motapung wetlands (an important bird and bio diversity area) is very badly affected. There is a thick layer of crude oil on the water. Fish are dying and some cattle that graze in the adjacent wetlands are also dead," said Mridupaban Phukon, a student and wildlife activist.

"We have been informed by people in Berekuri villages that condensed oil is coating leaves and has started affecting the hoolock gibbon habitat. If not contained immediately the wetlands and national park will be devastated," he said.

Around 650 families have been evacuated from the affected areas and continue to be camped in three relief camps.

"I visited the area on Sunday but it was barricaded. I could see the damage everywhere. Dead fish were floating and the vegetation is brown now. One Gangetic dolphin died soon after the leak. Usually the Maguri jheel is rich with bird life, I could hardly spot any birds that day. I appeal for immediate help," said Nabamita Ray, a doctor and wildlife enthusiast.

Oil India's crisis management team (CMT) members have started pumping water through the casing valve. Water is being pumped continuously through the valve into the well head. Oil India has also contacted global experts to control the blowout. The water pumps are being installed in the nearby river (source of water) and pipeline-laying work is in progress.

A blowout is the uncontrolled release of crude oil or natural gas from an oil well or gas well after pressure control systems have failed.

Dibru-Saikhowa has recorded over 40 mammals, 500 species of birds, 104 fish species, 105 butterfly species and 680 types of plants. It harbours tigers, elephants, wild buffalos, leopards, hoolock gibbons, capped langurs, slow lorises, Gangetic dolphins, besides critically endangered bird species such as the Bengal florican, white-winged duck, greater adjutant stork, white-rumped vulture, slender-billed vulture, and the very rare and endemic black-breasted parrotbill. All these are facing threat from the uncontrolled flow of the oil.

Passage

Quarantine and self-isolation need not be monotonous and stifling. They can be the gateway to work, be it in the arts or the sciences, that define the history of the world.

Isaac Newton, Charles Darwin, John Milton and Lord Byron used such time to add to their formidable body of work in science and literature. It was not called lockdown in their time, but they spent long spells in isolation, when medicine was not as developed as it is now.

The University of Cambridge, where all four studied, delved into its archives to collate their activities during such periods of isolation centuries ago.

Isaac Newton (Trinity College): Considered Trinity's most accomplished alumni, he exemplified productivity during a pandemic. Like many in Cambridge during the Great Plague of 1655-56, he retreated to the countryside to escape the disease-ridden city and spent two extended periods at his family home in rural Lincolnshire.

Newton thrived in isolation, and later described it as one of the most productive times in his life, finding the space to reflect on and develop his theories on optics, calculus, and the laws of motion and gravity. It was during this time that he conducted his famous prism experiment.

"He bored a hole through his window shutters to produce a single, thin beam of light to passthrough two prisms, proving for the first time that prisms did not create colours, but merely separated colours that were already there," the university's researcher, Alisha Matthewson-Grand, wrote.

"Indeed, Newton was so intellectually transformed by his period of isolation that later commentators have referred to his time away from Cambridge as his annus mirabilis, or his 'year of wonders'."

Charles Darwin (Christ's College): Darwin's experience with isolation was not the result of a pandemic but his own chronic ill health. He suffered from a myriad of unexplained symptoms, including vertigo, vomiting, cramps, fatigue, anxiety and visual disturbances.

He noted in his autobiography of 1876 that "few persons can have lived a more retired life than we [Darwin and his wife Emma] have done. Besides short visits to the houses of relations, and occasionally to the seaside or elsewhere, we have gone nowhere."

Darwin believed that periods of isolation and ill health helped his career. At home, he was free from the demands placed on other scientists (teaching, administrative work), and thus able to devote himself entirely to research; he wrote: "Ill-health, though it has annihilated several years of my life, has saved me from the distractions of society and amusement."

Lord Byron (Trinity College): In 1811, Lord Byron was forced to quarantine in Malta after returning from a cholera-ravaged Greece. He was furious at the prospect of spending 40 days in lock down, a measure he considered to be draconian and unnecessary.

While confined, he wrote 'Farewell to Malta', a satirical poem attacking the island for (among other things) "its smoky towns and cloudy sky" and its "cursed street of stairs". He references his quarantine explicitly in the first verse "Adieu, thou damned'st quarantine / That gave me fever, and the spleen!".

John Milton (Christ's College): The author of 'Paradise Lost' spent some time away from Cambridge as a first year undergraduate in 1626, when the town was hit by bubonic plague. He was home in London when he wrote Elegia Prima, his first Latin elegy. The work is a nearly example of his aptitude for verse composition, as well as his impressive flair for comedy.

(Too-to): इसका भाव negative होता है। जहाँ too +adj negative भाव का कारण बताता है। it means 'more than necessary or desirable'

Structure: Too+ adj /adv+ infinitive

Eg. This car is too expensive to buy.

Given sentence का Subject inactive है। Work किया जाता है न कि work स्वयं होता है, इसलिए passive structure का use होगा। infinitive का passive (to + be + V3rd) का use किया जाएगा।

◆ Grammar Point

यह too + adjective / adverb + infinitive (to+V) की structure है।

इस construction में too + adjective/ adverb किसी कार्य को नहीं करने के कारण को बताता है तथा Infinitive सामान्यतः किसी negative result को दर्शाता है।

Eg: She is very poor. She can't buy a car.

- She is too poor to buy a car.
- The box is very heavy. She can't carry it.
- The box is too heavy for her to carry.

Change करने के Rules:-

(i) Very को too में बदलते हैं।

(ii) जो sentence result बताता है उसके subject को छोड़ देते हैं तथा इस sentence की verb को infinitive में बदल देते हैं।

(iii) जब दोनो sentences के subject अलग-अलग हों तो for + object का प्रयोग किया जाता है।

Eg: The sum is very difficult, we can't do it.

- The sum is too difficult for us to do.

[दोनों sentences के subject (i.e. sum and we) अलग-अलग हैं।]

Eg: He is very lazy. He can't work hard.

- He is too lazy to work hard.

(दोनों sentences में subject समान है।)

54. (c) for

Present perfect continuous tense में since and for का use time show करने वाले words के पहले किया जाता है। जब time period (कितनी देर से / कितने समय से) से दिया हो तब for का use किया जाता है जैसे चार घंटे, बहुत दिनों से आदि।

Eg. They've lived in Jaipur for a couple of months.

जब निश्चित समय (किसी action का starting point दिया तो since का use किया जाता है जैसे since 1920, since Monday

Given sentence में the last five years एक time duration है इसलिए for का use किया जाना चाहिए।

Eg. They've lived in Jaipur for a couple of months.

I've worked here since Tuesday.

55. (b) did you see

Given sentence में when + clause केवल past time को show करता है इसमें past के किसी action को नहीं बताया गया है और when के पहले clause का action उसी time duration में complete हो गया था इसलिए इस clause में भी past indefinite का use होगा।

Eg. Soniya performed in the show last night.

Note:

Past indefinite tense का use Past habits को show करने के लिए भी किया जाता है।

Eg. I went school daily when I was a child.

Past habits को show करने के लिए used to and would का use भी किया जाता है।

Eg. I used to play cricket in my childhood.

I had a friend from Albany, which is about 36 miles away, and we would meet every Thursday morning and she would help us.

है।

Eg. I've got some questions for you.

I don't get any second chance from life.

Do you want some help...o' yes dear.

Without (Adv.): Not having or showing something (बिना)

Eg. Do you want a room with a bath or one without?

61. (a) gives all the energy

Eg. That's the very thing I need.

Option (b) में verb plural use की गई है जो grammatically wrong है।

Eg. The consort had begun before we reached there.

64. (b) such

Option Too is used with unpleasant adjective.

Either of these roads leads to the railway station. (दोनों roads में कोई भी)

Given sentence में each के बाद singular verb (was) का use होगा।

He is taller than most other boys in the class.

लेकिन जब comparison same subject में न हो तो other को भी हटा दिया जाता है

Eg. She is taller than any boy in the class. (here she is not a boy इसलिए उसे boy से अलग/भिन्न करने के लिए other लगाने की जरूरत नहीं है।)

Passage

Since September, at least 25 people have died and thousands have been made homeless. Every state and territory in Australia has experienced fires this summer. But the biggest fires burn along stretches of the eastern and southern coast, where most of the population lives. This includes areas around Sydney and Adelaide.

More than 6.3 million hectares (63,000 sq km or 15.6 million acres) have been burned so far one hectare is roughly the size of a sports field. To put that in perspective, around 800,000 hectares were engulfed in a bush fire in 2018 in California.

Australia has always experienced bush fires it has a "fire season". But this year they are a lot worse than normal.

Fires are usually caused by lightning strikes or accidentally by a spark but some fires are also started deliberately. This year, a natural weather phenomenon known as the 'Indian Ocean Dipole' has meant a hot, dry spell across the country. This year, Australia twice set anew temperature record; an average maximum of 41.9°C was recorded on 18 December. That comes on top of a long period of drought.

Scientists have long warned that this hotter, drier climate will contribute to fires becoming more frequent and more intense.

The more extreme weather patterns and higher temperatures increase the risk of bush fires and allow them to spread faster and wider.

Fire fighters are spraying water and fire retardant from planes and helicopters as well as from the ground. But fighting bush fires is extremely difficult and often authorities have to focus on just stopping the spread, rather than putting the fire out. The spread can for instance be best contained by digging earth boundaries to stop the flames from spreading. The priority is saving lives. Professional fire fighters are the first in line to battle the flames, but they are outnumbered by the thousands of volunteers. Three of them have died. There's also help coming from abroad: the US, Canada and New Zealand have sent fire fighters to help. Australia's police, military and navy are involved in rescue and evacuation efforts.

While people can flee the fires and are being evacuated if need be, the flames are devastating wildlife in the affected areas. One study estimated that half a billion animals have died in New South Wales alone.

Zookeepers take animals home to save them from fire, but the fires don't only kill animals directly, they also destroy the habitat, leaving the survivors vulnerable even when the fires have gone. So the true scale of loss isn't yet clear.

Experts say more than 1,00,000 cows and sheep may also have been lost, which is devastating for farmers.

Each state runs its own emergency operation, but Prime Minister Scott Morrison has promised better funding for fire-fighting and payout for volunteer fire fighters, and an additional A$2 billion ($1.4 billion; £1 billion) for the recovery.

But the national government has come under strong criticism from its opponents that it has not been doing enough against climate change. The country is one of the world's biggest per capita greenhouse gas emitters but under international agreements it has committed itself to reduction targets.

Passage

The Celts who lived in Britain before the Roman invasion of 43 AD could be said to have created the first towns. Celts in southern England lived in hill forts, which were quite large settlements. (Some probably had thousands of inhabitants). They were places of trade, where people bought and sold goods and also places where craftsmen worked. The Romans called them oppida.

However, the Romans created the first settlements that were undoubtedly towns. Roman towns were usually laid out in a grid pattern. In the centre was the forum or market place. It was lined with public buildings. Life in Roman towns was highly civilized with public baths and temples.

From the 5th century Angles, Saxons and Jutes invaded England. At first, the invaders avoided living in towns. However, as trade grew some towns grew up. London revived by the 7th century (although the Saxon town was, at first, outside the walls of the old Roman town). Southampton was founded at the end of the 7th century. Hereford was founded in the 8th century. Furthermore, Ipswich grew up in the 8th century and York revived.

However, towns were rare in Saxon England until the late 9th century. At that time, Alfred the Great created a network of fortified settlements across his kingdom called 'burhs'. In the event of a Danish attack, men could gather in the local burh. However, burhs were more than forts. They were also market towns. Some burhs were started from scratch but many were created out of the ruins of old Roman towns. Places like Winchester rose, phoenix-like, from the ashes of history.

The thing that would strike us most about medieval towns would be their small size. Winchester, the capital of England, probably had about 8,000 people. At that time a 'large' town, like Lincoln or Dublin had about 4,000 or 5,000 inhabitants and a 'medium sized' town, like Colchester had about 2,500 people. Many towns were much smaller.

However, during the 12th and 13th centuries most towns grew much larger. Further more, many new towns were created across Britain. Trade and commerce were increasing and there was a need for new towns. Some were created from existing villages but some were created from scratch. In those days you could create a town simply by starting a market. There were few shops so if you wished to buy or sell anything you had to go to a market. Once one was up and running, craftsmen and merchants would come to live in the area and at own would grow.

Passage

The giraffe is the tallest land mammal alive, its long legs and neck contributing to its impressive stature. Males can be up to 18ft (5.5m tall), females a little less.

In the wild, these beautiful creatures stretch their necks beyond those of antelope, kudu and even elephants to strip leaves from the untouched upper reaches of trees.

The French zoologist Jean-Baptiste Lamarck is usually credited as the first person to suggest that long necks have evolved in giraffes because they allow them to get to the parts other herbivores cannot reach.

As the giraffe lives "in places where the soil is nearly always arid and barren, it is obliged to browse on the leaves of trees and to make constant efforts to reach them," he wrote in his 1809 book 'Philosophie Zoologique'. "From this habit long maintained in all its race, it has resulted that the animal's fore-legs have become longer than its hind legs, and that its neck is lengthened."

The English naturalist Charles Darwin also thought the giraffe's extraordinary legs and neck must have something to do with foraging. "The giraffe, by its lofty stature, much elongated neck, fore-legs, head and tongue, has its whole frame beautifully adapted for browsing on the higher branches of trees," he wrote in 'On the Origin of Species' in 1859.

In short, giraffes' long necks are the result of generation upon generation of repeated stretching and inheritance.

During the dry season when feeding competition should be most intense giraffe generally feed from low shrubs, not tall trees. What's more, giraffes feed most often and faster with their necks bent.

Male giraffes often fight for access to females, a ritual referred to as "necking". The rivals stand flank to flank, then start to whack each other with their heads. The top or back of the well-armoured skull is used as a club to strike the neck, chest, ribs, or legs of the opponent with a force capable of knocking a competitor off balance or unconscious.

The largest males usually win these battles and do most of the breeding, says zoologist Anne Innis Dagg of the University of Waterloo in Ontario, Canada, who has been studying giraffes since the 1950s. "The other giraffes don't get much breeding opportunity."

There is also evidence that females are more receptive to advances from larger males.

Passage

The stark observation made in the Economic Survey of 2015-16 that "Indian agriculture, in a way, a victim of its own past success especially the green revolution", shows the dark reality of the agriculture sector at present and the havoc that has been wreaked by the green revolution.

The green revolution, which is often characterised by the introduction of high-yielding variety of seeds and fertilisers, undoubtedly increased the productivity of land considerably. But the growth in the productivity has been stagnant in recent years, resulting in a significant decline in the income of farmers. There have also been negative environmental effects in the form of depleting water table, emission of greenhouse gases, and the contamination of surface and ground water. Needless to say, the agriculture sector is in a state of distress, which is severely affecting peasants and marginal farmers, and urgent policy interventions are required to protect their interests.

The government has responded to the problem by constituting a panel, which will recommend ways to double the income of farmers by 2022. While this may be an overtly ambitious target, if we want to boost stagnated agricultural growth a shift has to be made from food security of the nation to income security of the farmers. However, there are many hurdles that have to be crossed if we want to achieve this objective.

The first major barrier to overcome is declining productivity. Data from 2013 reveals that India's average yield of cereal per hectare is far less than that of many countries (including several low income countries), but the difference is huge when compared to China. For instance, our average yield per hectare is 39% below than that of China and for rice this figure is 46%. Even Bangladesh, Vietnam and Indonesia fare better than India in case of rice yield. Further, there is a huge inter-regional variation; the wheat and rice yield from Haryana and Punjab is much higher than from the other states.

In order to cross the declining productivity barrier there is a need to herald a rainbow revolution by making a shift from wheat-rice cycle to other cereals and pulses. Since wheat and rice coupled with other crops are backed by minimum support prices (MSP) and input subsidy (whether water, fertiliser or power) regime, there is a huge incentive for the farmers in the irrigated region of Northwest India to grow these crops.

196. As per the passage, which country has the highest yield of rice per hectare?

- (a) Vietnam                (b) Bangladesh
(c) China                    (d) Indonesia

197. Which statement is NOT true according to the passage?

- (a) High yielding seeds and fertilizers were a hallmark of green revolution.
(b) The rice yield in India is below that of China by 39%.
(c) The growth in productivity has stagnated today.
(d) In Northwest India, farmers get subsidies on rice, wheat and other crops.

198. What does the author suggest to enhance the income of the farmers?

- (a) Constitute a panel to suggest ways to double the income
(b) Provide income security to the farmers
(c) Give subsidies on water, fertilizers and power
(d) Shift wheat-rice cycle to include other cereals and pulses

199. The purpose of this passage is to:

- (a) suggest measures for improving the farmers' lot
(b) talk about the consequences of the green revolution
(c) compare Indian agriculture with that of other countries
(d) express the anguish of the farmers

200. As per the passage, what is the main cause of decline in the income of farmers?

- (a) Emission of greenhouse gases
(b) Decline in agricultural production
(c) Depleting water table
(d) Contamination of ground water

यह sentence ऐसे लिखा जा सकता था

यह sentence निम्न प्रकार भी लिखें जा सकते हैं।

It was I who met John at the airport. (emphasis on I)

It was John whom I met at the airport. (emphasis on John)

70. (c) that

Conjunction So.....that का use किया जाता है।

Eg. My village is so lovely that you can't help admiring it.

So + adjective of positive degree/adverb + as का use negative sentence में किया जाता है।

Eg. The runner-up could not sing so nicely as the winner.

Eg. I don't know what's going on.

Go up (Phrase) - If a price, amount, or level goes up, it becomes higher or greater than it was. (बढ़ना)

+ Lure (V) : To persuade or trick somebody to go somewhere or to do something by promising them a reward (लुभाना)

Detailed-Analysis*146. (c) to prevent

Option (a) and option (c) grammatically wrong है।

To infinite के बाद V1st का use होता है। और is (if used as helping verb) के बाद V+ing form या V3rd (passive form) का use होता है।

यह sentence passive voice में नहीं है, बल्कि एक suggestive statement है। इसलिए Option (b) prevented भी wrong है।

अतः option (c) correct answer है।

To + infinitive का use purpose और action जो करने important है, को show करने के लिए किया जाता है और इस sentence में temptation को रोकने की importance के बारे में बताया जा रहा है।

147. (a) minds

इस sentence के भाव के अनुसार option (a) minds correct answer है, क्योंकि temptation हमारे minds में ही exist करता है। बाकि सभी option irrelevant है।

148. (b) signs

Option (a) Message का use किसी दूसरे को कोई written या spoken information भेजने के लिए किया जाता है।

अतः sentence के भाव के अनुसार watchful

(चौकस) रहते हुए temptation से noble thoughts की direction में turn करना चाहिए। अतः option (b)

150. (b) if

यह sentence एक condition को show कर रहा है इसलिए if correct होगा।

Unless and until sentence के अर्थ को change कर देगा इसलिए grammatically incorrect है।

Grammar Point:*If and Whether

If and whether का use indirect yes-no questions and questions with 'or' किया जाता है। जहाँ if ज्यादा common है।

Eg. Call the bakeries around town and find out if any of them sell raspberry pies.

More formal contexts में Whether को prefer किया जाता है।

Eg. John read a letter that he'd written and the board discussed whether it should be mailed.

Alternative express करने के लिए if तथा whether के साथ 'or not' का भी use किया जाता है। Whether के साथ 'or not' immediately बाद में या end position में use किया जा सकता है लेकिन if के साथ 'or not' end position में ही use किया जाता है।

Eg. I called Bill to find out whether or not he really did go to Afghanistan.

I called Bill to find out whether he really did go to Afghanistan or not.

I called Bill to find out if he really did go to Afghanistan or not.

If or whether का use verb of doubting के बाद के clauses को introduce करने के लिए किया जाता है।

152. (a) amounts

Option (c) amounted and option (d) amounting grammatically wrong है।

Passage present tense में है इसलिए past indefinite V2nd amounted, option (c) का use नहीं होगा।

बिना helping verb के ing form use नहीं होता है। इसलिए option (d) amounting का use भी नहीं होगा।

Temptation (singular) subject के बाद verb (singular) amounts का use होगा। अतः option (a) correct answer है।

Amount to (Phrasal verb) : To be equal to or the same as something

Eg. Their actions amount to a breach of contract.

Note: इस sentence में to preposition है इसी कारण से आगे (V+ing) का use prepositional object के रूप में किया गया है।

153. (d) thing

किसी भी situation और action को express करने के लिए thing का use किया जाता है और forward reading में और sentence में situation दिया गया है इसलिए option (b) thing correct answer है।

Eg. He's good at making things with his hands.

She took no interest in the people and things around her.

There are plenty of vegetarian items on the menu.

154. despite

Option (a) 'because of' irrelevant है।

Because of का use action के होने का reasons show करने के लिए किया जाता है। इस sentence में मैं कोई भी action नहीं हो रहा है बल्कि एक condition को show किया जा रहा है।

Option (d) 'in case of' grammatically wrong है, क्योंकि if के साथ in case of का use नहीं होता है।

Option (c) Instead of का अर्थ – 'किसी व्यक्ति या वस्तु के स्थान पर'

Eg. We just had soup instead of a full meal.

Now I can walk to work instead of going by car.

Option (b) despite का अर्थ – 'के बावजूद घटित होना यद्यपि उसे रोकने के लिए कोई action हो रहा हो'

Eg. Her voice was shaking despite all her efforts to control it.

Despite applying for hundreds of jobs, he is still out of work.

इस sentence में forward reading से दिया गया है कि temptation severe बन जाता है हमारी सभी cares के बावजूद

अतः यहाँ sentence के भाव के अनुसार despite सही answer होगा।

155. (a) should

Option (a) should का use सलाह देने और मांगने के लिए किया जाता है

Eg. You should stop worrying about it.

Should I call him and apologize?

option (b) could का use past ability and permission को show करने के लिए किया जाता है।

Eg. He could write and read English.

Could I have that book, please?

Eg. We would discuss this subject for hours.

Would you mind moving a little bit?

option (d) might का use remote/less possibility show करने के लिए किया जाता है

Eg. She began a search for new premises

The search for a cure goes on.

Scientist इन deep crevice को पहली बार ही खोजा था, इसलिए discover सही answer होगा।

158. (a) In case

इस sentence में दो contradictory clauses

को जोड़ा गया है इसलिए Although का use grammatically correct होगा।

बाकि सभी option grammatically wrong है।
in case (conjunction) का use किसी future परिस्थिति के लिए prepare होने के लिए किया जाता है।

Eg. In case I forget later, here are the keys to the garage.

Because का use किसी action के हाने का reason show करने के लिए किया जाता है।

Eg. I did it because he told me to.

Since का use conjunction के रूप में because and as के sense में किया जाता है।

Eg. We thought that, since we were in the area, we should stop by and see them.

इसके अलावा Since Present Perfect, Past perfect and present simple tense में main clause में use किया जाता है।

Eg. It's twenty years since I've seen her.

159. (c) these

Blank space के बाद noun (trenches) आया है इसलिए इसके पहले adjective का use होगा। option (a) 'them' pronoun (objective form of they) है इसलिए यह noun के पहले use नहीं होगा। option (b) this (demonstrative adjective) singular noun के पहले use होता है। option (c) these and option (d) those दोनों का use plural noun के पहले किया जाता है लेकिन जब sentence में दो से अधिक noun mentions हो तो जो writer के more close हो उसके लिए these तथा जो दूर हो उसके लिए those का use किया जाता है।

Eg. Alcohol and tobacco are both injurious; this perhaps, less than that.

इस sentence में केवल एक noun ही दिया गया है इसलिए these का use correct होगा। forward reading में भी these canyons का ही use हुआ है।

160. (d) such

Blank space के बाद Noun (canyon) आया है इसे modify करने के लिए adjective/determiner की आवश्यकता है।

Option (c) so and option (b) like grammatically wrong है।

So का use noun के पहले नहीं कर सकते है, इसका use adjective or adverb के पहले 'very' या 'to a great degree' के अर्थ में होता है।

Eg. That motor way is so dangerous. Everyone drives too fast.

Eg. That's kind of you. Thanks so much for thinking of us.

Eg. I'm sorry I'm walking so slowly. I've hurt my ankle.

Like preposition की तरह 'similar to somebody/something' के अर्थ में use किया जाता है, इसलिए यह noun को modify नहीं कर सकता है।

Eg. It tastes rather like chicken.

Eg. She's wearing a dress like mine.

Eg. He's very like his father.

Option (a) one determiner की तरह use किया जाता है लेकिन इसका अर्थ होता 'a single or just one' या emphasis करने के अर्थ में 'the only one' होता है। लेकिन इस sentence में बहुत सारी canyon में एक biggest जो अब तक पायी गई है उसके बारे में describe करना है इसलिए one भी wrong option है।

Option (d) such का use 'of this or that kind' के अर्थ में पहले mention thing के kinds का describe करने के लिए किया जाता है और sentence में भी यही convey किया जा रहा है इसलिए option (d) such correct answer है।

161. (d) Other

Option (a) previous and option (c) present irrelevant है।

Previous and Present time के लिए use किये जाते है।

Blank space के बाद canyons (plural noun) आया है इसलिए option (b) grammatically wrong है।

Option (b) Another and option (d) other determiner and pronoun की तरह use किये जाते है। जिसका अर्थ 'अतिरिक्त या दूसरे' होता है।

Another जब determiner की तरह use होता है तो इसके बाद singular noun का use किया जाता है।

Eg. Another example, another player, another ride,

Another जब Pronoun की तरह use किया जाता है तो यह पहले use किये गए noun के लिए use किया जाता है और इसके बाद कोई noun use नहीं होता है।

Eg. The applications are examined by one committee, then passed on to another.

Other जब determiner की तरह use किया जाता है तो यह plural noun के पहले use होता है और इस स्थिति में इसकी singular विलुप्त 'other' use होगी।

Eg. These boxes are for books. The other boxes are for clothes.

लेकिन जब यह pronoun की तरह use किया जाता है तो इसकी plural form others use होगी।

Eg. Some scientists think we should reduce the number of flights to prevent global warming; others disagree.

इस sentence में भी पहले आये canyon के

अलावा बाकी सभी canyons के बारे में बताया जा रहा है।

अतः option (d) other correct answer है।

162. (b) impressive

Option (d) inspiring irrelevant है।

Inspiring का अर्थ - प्रेरणादायक, जो कुछ करने को encourage करे। लेकिन इस sentence में ऐसा कोई भाव नहीं है।

Blank space के पहले But का use हुआ है और but contrast show करता है, sentence में पहले आया है कि ये other canyons very तो नहीं है लेकिन वे भी impressive (very large) है।

अतः option (b) impressive correct answer है।

163. (c) after

इस sentence में जानकारी दी गई है कि इन विशाल canyons को radar की help से खोजा गया। Radar की scanning के बाद ही इस विशाल frozen continent पर इन canyons का पता चला। अतः option (b) after सही answer होगा।

164. (c) They

Option (a) this, Option (b) that and Option (d) them grammatically wrong है

'This and That' Determiner and Pronoun की तरह ही use किये जाते है लेकिन जब ये Pronoun की तरह use किये जाते है तो इनके बाद singular verb use किया जाता है। इस sentence में blank space के बाद plural verb (are) use हुआ है।

Them object की तरह (objective form of they) use किया जाता है इसलिए यह subject of verb नहीं बन सकता है। Verb का subject केवल Noun and Pronoun (subjective form) हो सकते है।

इस sentence में canyons and trenches के लिए एक pronoun का use होगा और forward reading में इनके लिए they का use किया गया है और they verb का subject बन सकता है।

अतः option (c) They correct answer है।

165. (c) the

Noun + of + Noun के structure में पहली noun के पहले the का use किया जाता है।

Eg. The student of Cambridge university, The beauty of Kashmir, The water of Ganga, अतः option (c) the correct answer है।

Answer key :

Passage British Coronation Ceremony का describe करता है। Blank space में ceremony के route (रास्ते) पर जमा हुए crowds (plural noun) के लिए एक Pronoun की जरूरत है।

He (for men) and it (non living things) singular noun के लिए use किये जाते हैं।

Eg. Ram is a good teacher. He is known for his kindness.

Delhi is capital of India. It is one of the most crowded city in the world.

Option (a) We First person pronoun (plural) होता है, जिसका अर्थ होता है स्वयं बोलने वाला भी उस action में शामिल होता है, लेकिन इस passage में कहीं भी नहीं बताया गया है कि writer भी उस crowd में शामिल था, इसलिए का use factually wrong होगा।

Forward reading से they cheered यहाँ उसी crowd के लिए use हुआ है, इसलिये option (c) they correct answer है।

Note: Crowds के लिए third person plural pronoun 'they' का use होगा।

167. (a) appeared

Option (b) entered and option (c) joined irrelevant है।

There is still much to discuss. We shall, therefore, return to this item at our next meeting.

Option (b) Perhaps correct answer है।

Perhaps का use less definite statement or opinion को show करने के लिए 'संभवतया' के अर्थ में use किया जाता है।

Eg. This is perhaps his best novel to date.

He had a difficult upbringing, which perhaps explains why he behaves like that.

170. (b) which

Option (a) whom grammatically wrong है। Relative Pronoun 'Whom' verb का object

बनता है इसका subject form who होता है जो subject के रूप में use होता है और ये Human के लिए use किये जाते हैं।

What का use relative pronoun की तरह नहीं करते हैं क्योंकि इसका कोई antecedent नहीं होता है, इसके स्थान पर which का use होता है।

Eg. This is the book which the lecturer mentioned. (✓)

The book what the lecturer mentioned. (✗)

What जब pronoun की तरह use होता है तो इसका अर्थ होता है 'the thing(s) that'

Eg. What we need to do is make a list of useful phone numbers. (the thing we need to do)

इसके अलावा what question पूछने के लिए interrogative pronoun की तरह भी use किया जाता है।

What's she doing? Tell her to stop at once!

अतः option (c) correct answer है।

The film which (that) we saw last week, is the hit of this year.

Passage

Plato is the earliest important educational thinker, and education is an essential element in 'The Republic' (his most important work on philosophy and political theory, written around 360B.C.). In it, he advocates some rather extreme methods; removing children from their mothers' care and raising them as wards of the state, and differentiating children suitable to the various castes, the highest receiving the most education, so that they could act as guardians of the city and care for the less able. He believed that education should be holistic, including facts, skills, physical discipline, music and art. Plato believed that talent and intelligence is not distributed genetically and thus is he found in children born to all classes, although his proposed system of selective public education for an educated minority of the population does not really follow a democratic model.

Aristotle considered human nature, habit and reason to be equally important forces to be cultivated in education, the ultimate aim of which should be to produce good and virtuous citizens. He proposed that teachers lead their students systematically, and that repetition be used as a key tool to develop good habits, unlike Socrates' emphasis on questioning his listeners to bring out their own ideas. He emphasized the balancing of the theoretical and practical aspects of subjects taught, among which he explicitly mentions reading, writing,

Passage

Chanhudaro was a tiny settlement (less than 7 hectares) as compared to Mohenjodaro (125 hectares), almost exclusively devoted to craft production, including bead-making, shell cutting, metal-working, seal-making and weight-making. The variety of materials used to make beads is remarkable: stones like carnelian (of a beautiful red colour), jasper, crystal, quartz and steatite; metals like copper, bronze and gold; and shell, faience and terra cotta or burnt clay. Some beads were made of two or more stones, cemented together; some of stone with gold caps. The shapes were numerous disc shaped, cylindrical, spherical, barrel-shaped, segmented. Some were decorated by incising or painting, and some had designs etched onto them.

Techniques for making beads differed according to the material. Steatite, a very soft stone, was easily worked. Some beads were moulded out of a paste made with steatite powder. This permitted making a variety of shapes, unlike the geometrical forms made out of harder stones. How the steatite micro bead was made remains a puzzle for archaeologists studying ancient technology. Archaeologists' experiments have revealed that the red colour of carnelian was obtained by firing the yellowish raw material and beads at various stages of production. Nodules were chipped into rough shapes, and then finely flaked into the final form. Grinding, polishing and finally drilling completed the process. Specialised drills have been found at Chanhudaro, Lothal and more recently at Dholavira. Nageshwar and Balakot, both settlements are near the coast. These were specialised centres for making shell objects including bangles, ladies and inlay which were taken to other settlements. Similarly, it is likely that finished products (such as beads) from Chanhudaro and Lothal were taken to the large urban centres such as Mohenjodaro and Harappa.

Passage

Santiniketan embodies Rabindranath Tagore's vision of a place of learning that is unfettered by religious and regional barriers. Established in 1863 with the aim of helping education go beyond the confines of the classroom, Santiniketan grew into the Visva Bharati University in 1921, attracting some of the most creative minds in the country.

He developed a curriculum that was a unique blend of art, human values and cultural interchange. Even today, in every step, in every brick and in every tree at Santiniketan, one can still feel his presence, his passion, his dedication and his pride in the institution.

In 1862, Maharishi Debendranath Tagore, father of Rabindranath, was taking a boat ride through Birbhum, the westernmost corner of Bengal, when he came across a landscape that struck him as the perfect place for meditation. He bought the large tract of land and built a small house and planted some saplings around it. Debendranath Tagore decided to call the place Santiniketan, or the 'abode of peace', because of the serenity it brought to his soul. In 1863, he turned it into a spiritual centre where people from all religions, castes and creed came and participated in meditation.

In the years that followed, Debendranath's son Rabindranath went on to become one of the most formidable literary forces India has ever produced. He wrote in all literary genres but he was first and foremost a poet. As one of the earliest educators to think in terms of the global village, he envisioned an education that was deeply rooted in one's immediate surroundings but connected to the cultures of the wider world.

Located in the heart of nature, the school aimed to combine education with a sense of obligation towards the larger civic community. Blending the best of western and traditional eastern systems of education, the curriculum revolved organically around nature with classes being held in the open air. Tagore wanted his students to feel free despite being in the formal learning environment of a school, because he himself had dropped out of school when he found himself unable to think and felt claustrophobic within the four walls of a classroom. Nature walks and excursions were a part of the curriculum, special attention was paid to natural phenomena and students were encouraged to follow the life cycles of insects, birds and plants.

The rural paradise of Santiniketan, Tagore's erstwhile home, has become a thriving centre of art, education and internationalism over the years.

Passage

Her name was Sulekha, but since her childhood everyone had been calling her Bholi, the simpleton. She was the fourth daughter of Ramlal. When she was ten months old, she had fallen off the cot on her head and perhaps it had damaged some part of her brain. That was why she remained a backward child and came to be known as Bholi, the simpleton. At birth, the child was very fair and pretty. But when she was two years old, she had an attack of smallpox. Only the eyes were saved, but the entire body was permanently disfigured by deep black pockmarks. Little Sulekha could not speak till she was five as she was a slow learner, and when at last she learnt to speak, she stammered. The other children often made fun of her and mimicked her. As a result, she talked very little. Ramlal had seven children—three sons and four daughters, and the youngest of them was Bholi. It was a prosperous farmer's household and there was plenty to eat and drink. All the children except Bholi were healthy and strong. The sons had been sent to the city to study in schools and later in colleges. Of the daughters, Radha, the eldest, had already been married. The second daughter Mangla's marriage had also been settled, and when that was done, Ramlal would think of the third, Champa. They were good-looking, healthy girls, and it was not difficult to find bridegrooms for them. But Ramlal was worried about Bholi. She had neither good looks nor intelligence. From her very childhood Bholi was neglected at home. She was seven years old when Mangla was married. The same year a primary school for girls was opened in their village. The Tehsildar sahib came to perform its opening ceremony. He said to Ramlal, "As a revenue official you are the representative of the government in the village and so you must set an example to the villagers. You must send your daughters to school." That night when Ramlal consulted his wife, she cried, "Are you crazy? If girls go to school, who will marry them?" But Ramlal had not the courage to disobey the Tehsildar. At last his wife said, "I will tell you what to do. Send Bholi to school. As it is, there is little chance of her getting married, with her ugly face and lack of sense. Let the teachers at school worry about her."

Eg. I called Bill to find out whether or not he really did go to Afghanistan.

Eg. I have eaten so much since morning. (अभी नहीं खा रहा लेकिन पेट भरा हुआ है।)

Passage

The first time that Agha Shahid Ali spoke to me about his approaching death was on 25 April 2001. The conversation began routinely. I had telephoned to remind him that we had been invited to a friend's house for lunch. Although he had been under treatment for cancer for some fourteen months, Shahid was still on his feet and perfectly lucid, except for occasional lapses of memory. I heard him thumbing through his engagement book and then suddenly he said: 'Oh dear. I can't see a thing.' There was a brief pause and then he added: 'I hope this doesn't mean that I'm dying.' I did not know how to respond: his voice was completely a toads with the content of what he had just said, light to the point of jocularly. I mumbled something innocuous: 'No Shahid of course not. You'll be fine.' He cut me short. In a tone of voice that was at once quizzical and direct, he said: 'When it happens I hope you'll write something about me.'

I was shocked into silence and a long moment passed before I could bring myself to say the things that people say on such occasions. 'Shahid you'll be fine; you have to be strong...' From the window of my study I could see a corner of the building in which he lived, some eight blocks away. It was just a few months since he moved there: he had been living a few miles away, in Manhattan, when he had a sudden blackout in February 2000. After tests revealed that he had a malignant brain tumour, he decided to move to Brooklyn, to be close to his youngest sister, Sameetah, who teaches at the Pratt Institute a few blocks away from the street where I live. Shahid ignored my reassurances. He began to laugh and it was then that I realised that he was dead serious. I understood that he was entrusting me with a quite specific charge: he wanted me to remember him not through the spoken recitations of memory and friendship, but through the written word.

He knew that my instincts would have led me to search for reasons to avoid writing about his death: I would have told myself that I was not a poet; that our friendship was of recent date; that there were many others who knew him much better and would be writing from greater understanding and knowledge. All this Shahid had guessed and he had decided to shut off those routes while there was still time. 'You must write about me.' Finally, I said: 'Shahid, I will: I'll do the best I can.'

Passage

The Roman Empire covered a vast stretch of territory that included most of Europe as we know it today and a large part of the Fertile Crescent and North Africa.

The Roman empire embraced a wealth of local cultures and languages; that women had a stronger legal position than they do in many countries today; but also that much of the economy was run on slave labour, denying freedom to substantial numbers of persons. From the fifth century onwards, the empire fell apart in the west but remained intact and exceptionally prosperous in its eastern half.

Roman historians have a rich collection of sources to go on, which we can broadly divide into three groups: (a) texts, (b) documents and (c) material remains. Textual sources include letters, speeches, sermons, laws, and histories of the period written by contemporaries. These were usually called 'Annals' because the narrative was constructed on a year-by-year basis. Documentary sources include mainly inscriptions and papyri. Inscriptions were usually cut on stone, so a large number survive, in both Greek and Latin. The 'papyrus' was a reed-like plant that grew along the banks of the Nile in Egypt and was processed to produce sheets of writing material that was very widely used in everyday life. Thousands of contracts, accounts, letters and official documents survive 'on papyrus' and have been published by scholars who are called 'papyrologists'. Material remains include a very wide assortment of items that mainly archaeologists discover (for example, through excavation and field survey), for example, buildings, monuments and other kinds of structures, pottery, coins, mosaics, even entire landscapes. Each of these sources can only tell us just so much about the past, and combining them can be a fruitful exercise, but how well this is done depends on the historian's skill!

Passage

The drainage systems of India are mainly controlled by the broad relief features of the subcontinent. Accordingly, the Indian rivers are divided into two major groups: the Himalayan rivers; and the Peninsular rivers.

Apart from originating from the two major physiographic regions of India, the Himalayan and the Peninsular rivers are different from each other in many ways. Most of the Himalayan rivers are perennial. It means that they have water throughout the year. These rivers receive water from rain as well as from melted snow from the lofty mountains. The major Himalayan rivers are the Indus, the Ganga and the Brahmaputra. These rivers are long, and are joined by many large and important tributaries. A river along with its tributaries may be called a river system. The two major Himalayan rivers, the Indus and the Brahmaputra originate from the north of the mountain ranges. They cut through the mountains making gorges in the upper course. The perennial Himalayan rivers have long courses from their source to the sea. They perform intensive erosional activity in their upper courses and carry huge loads of silt and sand with their swift current. In the middle and the lower courses, these rivers form meanders, ox bow lakes, levees and many other depositional features in their flood plains as their speeds lackens. They also have well developed deltas.

A large number of the Peninsular rivers like the Godavari, Kaveri and Krishna are seasonal, as their flow is dependent on rainfall. During the dry season when it doesn't rain, even the large rivers have reduced flow of water in their channels. The Peninsular rivers have shorter and shallower courses as compared to their Himalayan counterparts. However, some of them originate in the central highlands and flow towards the west. Most of the rivers of peninsular India originate in the Western Ghats and flow towards the Bay of Bengal.

186. The word 'seasonal' rivers in the passage means:

Passage

Cambridge was my metaphor for England, and it was strange that when I left it had become altogether something else, because I had met Stephen Hawking there. It was on a walking tour through Cambridge that the guide mentioned Stephen Hawking, 'poor man, who is quite disabled now, though he is a worthy successor to Isaac Newton, whose chair he has at the university.' And I started, because I had quite forgotten that this most brilliant and completely paralysed astrophysicist, (scholar of astrophysics branch of physics dealing with stars, planets, etc.) the author of A Brief History of Time, one of the biggest best-sellers ever, lived here. When the walking tour was done, I rushed to a phone booth and, almost tearing the cord so it could reach me outside, phoned Stephen Hawking's house. There was his assistant on the line and I told him I had come in a wheelchair from India (perhaps he thought I had propelled myself all the way) to write about my travels in Britain. I had to see Professor Hawking even ten minutes would do. "Half an hour," he said. "From three-thirty to four." And suddenly I felt weak all over. Growing up disabled, you get fed up with people asking you to be brave, as if you have a courage account on which you are too lazy to draw a cheque. The only thing that makes you stronger is seeing somebody like you, achieving something huge. Then you know how much is possible and you reach out further than you ever thought you could. "I haven't been brave," said his disembodied computer-voice, the next afternoon. "I've had no choice." Surely, I wanted to say, living creatively with the reality of his disintegrating body was a choice? But I kept quiet, because I felt guilty every time I spoke to him, forcing him to respond. There he was, tapping at the little switch in his hand, trying to find the words on his computer with the only bit of movement left to him, his long, pale fingers. Every so often, his eyes would shut in frustrated exhaustion. And sitting opposite him I could feel his anguish, the mind buoyant with thoughts that came out in frozen phrases and sentences stiff as corpses.

Passage

The four-year tiger census report, Status of Tigers in India, 2018, released by Prime Minister Narendra Modi shows numbers of the cat have increased across all landscapes. The Global Tiger Forum, an international collaboration of tiger-bearing countries, has set a goal of doubling the count of wild tigers by 2022. More than 80% of the world's wild tigers are in India, and it's crucial to keep track of their numbers. The total count in 2018 has risen to 2,967 from 2,226 in 2014 – an increase of 741 individuals an increase of 33%, in four years. This is by far the biggest increase in terms of both numbers and percentage since the four yearly census using camera traps and the capture-mark-recapture method began in 2006. The 2018 figure has a great degree of credibility because, according to the report, as many as 2,461 individual tigers (83% of the total) have actually been photographed by trap cameras. In 2014, only 1,540 individuals (69%) were photographed. The tiger census is needed because the tiger sits at the peak of the food chain, and its conservation is important to ensure the well-being of the forest ecosystem. The tiger estimation exercise includes habitat assessment and prey estimation. The numbers reflect the success or failure of conservation efforts. This is an especially important indicator in a fast-growing economy like India where the pressures of development often run counter to the demands of conservation. Where has the tiger population increased the most? The biggest increase has been in Madhya Pradesh – a massive 218 individuals (71%) from 308 in 2014 to 526. However, since tigers keep moving between states, conservationists prefer to talk about tiger numbers in terms of landscapes. So, why have the numbers gone up? The success owes a lot to increased vigilance and conservation efforts by the Forest Department. From 28 in 2006, the number of tiger reserves went up to 50 in 2018, extending protection to larger numbers of tigers over the years. Healthy increases in core area populations eventually lead to migrations to areas outside the core; this is why the 2018 census has found tigers in newer areas. Over the years, there has been increased focus on tigers even in the areas under the territorial and commercial forestry arms of Forest Departments. The other important reason is increased vigilance, and the fact that organized poaching rackets have been all but crushed. According to Nitin Desai of Wildlife Protection Society of India, there has been no organized poaching by traditional gangs in Central Indian landscapes since 2013. The increased protection has encouraged the tiger to breed. Tigers are fast breeders when conditions are conducive. The rehabilitation of villages outside core areas in many parts of the country has led to the availability of more inviolate space for tigers. Also, because estimation exercises have become increasingly more accurate over the years, it is possible that many tigers that eluded enumerators in earlier exercises were counted this time.

Passage

A few years ago it seemed as if the moment for stand-up comedy had arrived. By the end of 2017, stand-up comedians were on the cover of a magazine, signaling the coming of age of the industry. The stand-up game attracted investors in the right places: on platforms like Netflix and Amazon Prime, apart from increasing open mic schedules in venues across cities. Two major companies Comedy Store and Canvas Laugh Club arrived on the scene and were game changers. But despite a heady start, the comic landscape has changed drastically today with stand-up comedians feeling the brunt of faltering payments and cancelled shows. Despite a good start, the Indian stand-up industry is still unorganized and uncertain for comics. If you ask viral comic Kunal Kamra about the scene, he says that the audience isn't really 'invested' in the art form at the moment and that only ten or twenty tickets would sell if comics weren't on the internet promoting themselves. And this is despite the surge in open mics and more stand-ups coming in. Last year, new-age Indian comedy's reputation came under strain when allegations under the #MeToo movement exposed a darker side of the circuit. Since then, the big three comedy groups: All India Bakchod, SNG Comedy and East India Comedy, have either disbanded or had founding members quit. Jeeya Sethi, a leading comedian says, "It's a good thing that these collectives have died because they mostly had men with no women being showcased." Sethi adds saying that it isn't as easy as it sounds. "In a fledgling industry, a viral YouTube video isn't a sign that you've made it". Craft takes time. Every comic who does two open mic calls himself a comedian. In my opinion, you have to do comedy for more than 20 years to be a comic. It takes at least five years to find your voice."

Passage

According to a new American study headed by Dr. Willis, it has been found that people who exercise in the morning seem to lose more weight than people completing the same workout later in the day. These findings help shed light on the vexing issue of why some people shed considerable weight with exercise and others almost none. The study adds to the growing body of science suggesting that the timing of various activities, including exercise, could affect how those activities affect us. The relationship between exercise and body weight is somewhat befuddling. Multiple past studies show that a majority of people who take up exercise to lose weight drop fewer pounds than would be expected, given how many calories they are burning during their workouts. Some gain weight. But a few respond quite well, shedding pound after pound with the same exercise regimen that prompts others to add inches. The Mid West Trial 2, was conducted in the University of Kansas, U.S. on how regular, supervised exercise influences body weight. The trial involved 100 overweight, previously inactive young men and women who were made to work out five times a week at a physiology lab, jogging or otherwise sweating until they had burned up to 600 calories per session. After 10 months of this regimen, almost everyone had dropped pounds. But the extent of their losses fluctuated wildly, even though everyone was doing the same, supervised workout. A team of researchers started brainstorming what could be responsible for the enormous variability in the weight loss. They hit upon activity timing. They decided to do a Follow-up study of the Mid West Trial 2. In this new study, the Mid West Trial 2

Follow up study the researchers now studied a team of participants who could visit the gym whenever they wished between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. They also tracked everyone's calorie intakes and daily movement habits throughout the 10 months. They knew, too, whether and by how much people's weights had changed. Now, they checked weight change against exercise schedules and quickly noticed a consistent pattern. Those people who usually worked out before noon had lost more weight, on average, than the men and women who typically exercised after 3 p.m. The researchers uncovered a few other, possibly relevant differences between the morning and late-day exercisers. The early-exercise group tended to be slightly more active throughout the day, taking more steps in total than those who worked out later. They also ate less. These factors may cumulatively have contributed to the striking differences in how many pounds people lost, Dr. Willis says. Thus it seems that people who worked out before noon lost more weight, on average, than those who typically exercised after 3 p.m. But Dr. Willis also points out that most of those who worked out later in the day did lose weight, even if not as much as the larkish exercisers, and almost certainly became healthier. "I would not want anyone to think that it's not worth exercising if you can't do it first thing in the morning," he says. "Any exercise, at any time of day, is going to be better than none."

Passage

The United Kingdom's Social Mobility Commission study reports that disadvantaged children in England are being priced out of a cultural hinterland. Children aged 10-15 from low-income families are three times less likely than wealthier peers to engage in out-of-school musical activities, such as learning an instrument etc. There were also differences according to race 4% of British Pakistani children took part in music classes, compared with 28% of Indian children and 20% of white children and regional divides: 9% of children in north-east England played a musical instrument, compared with 22% in the south-east. Disadvantaged children are also more likely to miss out on extracurricular sports (football, boxing, cricket) and drama, dance and art. The commission set out recommendations, including bursaries, better funding and support for schools let's hope they're taken onboard. As well as the activities themselves, children are missing out on other crucial gains including confidence-building, team spirit and social skill, and are less likely to go on to higher education. Extracurricular activities tend to cost money, but there are also problems with a lack of availability and access, such as schools being unable to afford to run after-school clubs or stay open during holidays. Another barrier is the kids' "fear of not fitting in". In this sense, certain children are self-excluding from, say, learning an instrument, singing in a choir, playing cricket or acting. They decide by themselves that they're "undeserving" of music, sport, art and drama. Unbelievably, in 2019, children as young as 10 are already hard-wired with the self-limiting poverty notion of "not for the likes of us". This is heartbreaking. It's hardly news that life is tougher for poorer children, but it's an outrage if all sense of curiosity, artistry and playfulness is knocked out of them so early. Something is wrong if better-off children feel entitled to explore and participate in areas that interest and excite them, while the disadvantaged are cast from the start as cultural wallflowers doomed to sit out every dance. This isn't about every child learning the piano or violin (but why not?), it's about sowing the seeds for a cultural hinterland that will sustain and enrich them for life. It's about people exploring their passions and refusing to have their horizons artificially limited. Regardless of circumstances, all children should know that their faces "fit" automatically and forever. Culture belongs to everyone.

196. The probability of a child in United Kingdom getting opportunities to engage in cultural and sports activities depends on-

- A. parental economic background
  - B. whether one parent is British
  - C. whether parents have a university education
  - D. kind of school and funding available
- Of the above points which are correct
- (a) A & D (b) B & D
  - (c) A & B (d) C & D

197. According to the passage which of the following is not the correct reason

Exposure to cultural activities and sports at a young age is very important for children because it

- (a) brings about differences among children.
- (b) leads children to explore their talents.
- (c) builds team spirit and social skills.
- (d) helps in confidence building.

198. Pick out a phrase or a word which means the same as a group of people considered to be superior to others because of their social standing or wealth

- (a) disadvantaged
- (b) cultural wallflowers

- (a) Children will get exposure to arts and sports.
- (b) Children will no longer have the fear of not fitting in.
- (c) Children will have feelings of low self-esteem and self-exclusion.
- (d) Children will explore play and learning outside of class.

200. According to the author, what is truly heart-breaking and damaging for the kids is that -

- (a) parents don't have money to pay for any additional classes for their children.
- (b) teachers are told not to offer these opportunities as they are not tested.
- (c) schools wish to offer activities but don't have funds.
- (d) children themselves feel that the activities are not fit for the likes of them.

Note: जब adjectives की sequence लम्बी होती है तब दो adjectives के मध्य comma लगाया जाता है।

Note:

- (1) जब एक ही type के दो adjective आये तथा ये किसी चीज के different parts को बताये तो adjective 'and' से जुड़ते हैं।

Eg: It was a blue and green cotton shirt.

- The library has old and new books.
  - We live in a big white, green and red house.
  - My friend lost a red, black and white pen.
- किसी adjective तथा noun के मध्य comma नहीं लगाया जाता है।

- (2) जब verb (is, am, are etc.) के बाद एक से अधिक adjective आये तो last तथा second last adjective 'and' से जुड़ते हैं लेकिन यदि ये adjective noun से पहले प्रयुक्त होते हैं तो सामान्यतः 'and' प्रयुक्त नहीं होता है।

Eg: The house is large white. (✗)

- The house is large and white. (✓)
- They live in a large and white house. (✗)
- They live in a large white house. (✓)
- Home was always a warm, welcoming place. Now it is sad, dark and cold.

- (3) Physical descriptions (size, age, shape and colour) को बताने वाले adjective के order में कुछ exception भी है -

- The antique round vase. (✗)
- The round antique vase. (✓)

इस case में age (antique) से पहले shape (round) ली गई है but यह more correct है।

Some Collocations :-

- Old red antique car.
- Long sharp knife.

- (4) जब किसी specific adjective को emphasize करना हो तो उसे noun के साथ रखते हैं।

Square red tile तथा red square tile दोनों expression सही हैं। first case में हम red tile को emphasize कर रहे हैं तथा second case में हम square tile को emphasize कर रहे हैं।

- जब हम किसी भी adjective पर जोर ना दें तो opinions or attitudes usually पहले आते हैं तथा neutral or factual adjectives बाद में आते हैं।

46. (d) "visit of the" in place of 'visit to a'.

Of : Following a noun derived from or related to a verb. (क)

(a) followed by a noun expressing the subject of the verb underlying the first noun.

Eg. The arrival of the police.

To : Used for expressing motion or direction towards a point; person, place or thing approached and reached.

Eg. They came to the house.

47. (b) "hundred" in place of 'hundreds'.

Eg. I was the only person on the train.

Nouns denoting numbers/weight जैसे— Brace, score, dozen, hundred, thousand, million, billion, Etc. के आगे जब कोई definite numeral आता है तो ये singular होते हैं।

Eg. Five dozen eggs; Six hundred boys; Ten thousand rupees; Four million people etc.

Note: लेकिन जब इन nouns के बाद of + plural noun आए तो उसका अर्थ a large number/ amount होता है तब ये plural form में use होते हैं।

Eg. Dozens of pens; Hundreds of boys; Thousands of men; Billions of stars etc.

I gave him two hundred rupees.

48. (d) Either use 'could not bear' और 'was not able to bear'.

Past की ability या Inability को show करने के लिए 'could' का use किया जाता है।

Couldn't: was not able to.

Eg. I couldn't come to the party yesterday because of my illness.

बढ़ tooth pain 'bear' नहीं कर पा रहा था तो यह उसकी Past की inability show करता है।

49. (c) 'and also a' in place of 'and also the'

'And' parallel construction follow करता है, इसलिए and के बाद के same grammatically order follow होगा। Given sentence में and के पहले 'a + noun' का use किया गया है इसलिए and के बाद भी a + noun का use होगा।

Eg. In your bedroom, you will find the following: a bed, a closet and a desk.

50. (a) "that have" in place of 'who has'.

That : Living/non living things person etc. के लिए relative pronoun that का use किया जाता है।

Option (c) & Option (d) grammatically incorrect है।

53. (c) wish to participate.

'to + V1' use होती है। इसलिए option (a) और option (d) grammatically wrong है।

Sentence, 'open conditional' है इसलिए conditional part present simple में होगा।

इसलिये option (b) और Option (a) grammatically wrong है।

Eg. If She comes to us, we will go to zoo.

do/does/did के बाद V1st form आती है इसलिए option (a) correct answer है।

57. (a) didn't want to eat.

Sentence "past tense" में है इसलिए 'do/does' का use नहीं होगा ['My guests' plural है इसलिए इनके साथ 'does' use हो ही नहीं सकता]

Option (b) 'did' के बाद V1st form आती है। अतः option (a) correct answer है। option (c) do के बाद V1st का use होता है।

बाकी options grammatically incorrect है।

इसलिए इसका structure होगा – where + subject + verb.

Eg. Do you have any idea where this Road goes?

63. (d) he was going.

Option (a) grammatically wrong है क्योंकि had + V3rd form use होती है।

Question में दिया Sentence Past में है इसलिए option (c) भी wrong है।

Grammar Point :

जब किसी action के होने के समय दूसरा action पहले से चल रहा हो तो उसमें past continuous tense का use किया जाता है।

Eg. He got down, while the train was moving.

boy पहले से चल रहा था Inspector ने उसे रोका, इसलिए 'he was going' सही answer होगा।

Eg. You must abide by the rules.

I am going to Surat.

69. (d) Canada and the united states.

Countries के नाम से पहले definite Article 'the' का use नहीं किया जाता।

Exception : किन्तु जिन countries के नाम के साथ "States", "Kingdom", "Republic", "Emirates", "Union", "Coast", "Territory" etc. जुड़ा हुआ हो उनसे पहले 'The' का use किया जाता है।

He lives in the united states.

इसलिए 'Canada' के पहले 'The' का use नहीं होगा।

70. (c) a lot of

A lot of/lots of: A large number or amount of somebody/something. (अधिक मात्रा या संख्या)

Eg. A lot of people are coming to the meeting.

Black coffee with lots of Sugar.

Sub. + prefer + Noun/Pronoun/ Gerund (V+ing) + to + Noun/pronoun/ Gerund

Note : यदि infinitives को जोड़ा जाता है तो to (prep.) के स्थान पर rather than का use किया जाता है तथा उसके बाद bare infinitive use (V1st) use करते हैं।

Structure:

Sub. + prefer + to + V1st + rather than + V1st

Eg: I always prefer to read book rather than to watch television. (×)

I always prefer to read book rather than watch television. (✓)

Prefer के बाद यदि केवल एक ही verb दिया गया हो तो वह to+V1st होगा।

Eg. I prefer to drink.

72. (d) Is not a good

Better, good की comparative degree है। comparative degree का use तभी किया जाता है जब comparison हो रहा हो। यहाँ 'economic system' का किसी के साथ comparison नहीं हो रहा है इसलिए 'positive degree' 'good' का use होगा।

Article 'a' economic system के लिए आया है जो कि singular noun है।

Eg. Ram is a good student.

73. (a) Since I have seen

'Since' : As a conjunction के रूप में use होगा क्योंकि इसके बाद complete clause use हुआ है।

Structure : Present perfect + since + past simple/present perfect tense.

Eg. They haven't received any junk mail since they have moved house.

Nothing has changed since I left College.

Option (b) में have + V1st आया है जो कि गलत है has/have/had + V3rd form का use होता है।

[Since I saw Meena ज्यादा सही होता है।]

Eg. Smoking increases the risk of heart disease.

Disorder (N) : A state of confusion (विकार)

75. (a) likely

Likely एक Adj. है। इसका use संभावना को व्यक्त करने में किया जाता है।

Be likely to : Allow us to express a probable action.

Probably (Adverb) का use भी संभावना show करने के लिए किया जाता है लेकिन दोनों की structure में भिन्नता होती है।

Likely (adj.) है इसलिए इसके के बाद to infinitive का use होता है और that + clause का भी use किया जा सकता है लेकिन probably (Adv.) के बाद ऐसा नहीं होता है।

Eg. It is likely that Spain will win

The economy is likely to recover slowly.

Spain will probably win.

It is probably going to rain.

  - Intentionally - Deliberately; on purpose- जानबूझकर।

Detailed Analysis*146. (a) intently

Given cloze में 'Speech' की बात हो रही है, तो speech को 'ध्यान से' सुना जाता है इसलिए 'intently' fits the best in the context.

Vocabulary Point

Listen- To give attention to a sound (किसी ध्वनि को प्रयास पूर्वक सुनना)

Hear- Perceive with ears (सुनाई दे जाना)
(Without paying attention to the sound)

Eg. I heard a noise outside when I was listening the speech of the prime minister on TV.

Collocations:-

Listen actively/attentively/carefully

Listen to

Listen for something/ Listen out for something : To be prepared to hear a particular sound.

Eg. Can you listen out for the doorbell?

Listen with one ear (Phrase)

Option (b) 'Smoothly' का अर्थ बिना किसी difficulty के होता है। paragraph में किसी difficulty की बात नहीं हुई है इसलिए irrelevant है।

Option (c) 'Evenly' समान या बराबर का अर्थ देता है paragraph में समान या बराबर सुनाई देने की बात नहीं हुई है इसलिए यह option भी irrelevant है।

Option (d) 'Clearly' का अर्थ स्पष्ट रूप से होता है। 'listen' के साथ यह use भी किया जाता है किन्तु paragraph में सुनने की clarity के बारे में कोई बात नहीं हुई है अतः यह option red-herring है।

147. (d) however

यहाँ contradiction show हो रहा है क्योंकि पहले सब अच्छे से चल रहा था मगर बात के बीच में (half way) speaker अपने दोस्त 'Ravi' को फुसफुसाते देखता है। अतः contradiction show करने वाले word 'However' का use होगा।

However (Adverb) : Used to introduce a statement that contrasts with something that has just been said. (मगर, तथापि)

Eg. He was feeling bad. He went to work, however, and tried to concentrate.

Option (a) wherever व Option (b) whenever compound relative pronoun है जो कि किसी स्थान या समय के respective use किये जाते हैं किन्तु paragraph में किसी स्थान या समय के विषय में बात ही नहीं हुई है अतः irrelevant है।

Whenever : at any time that; (जब भी)

Eg. You can ask for help whenever you need it.

Wherever : in any place (जहाँ कहीं भी)

Eg. Meet me wherever you like.

Option 'C' Moreover का use same type of sentence में conjunction के रूप में होता है जबकि यहाँ contradiction है। अतः factually wrong है।

Moreover : As a further matter; besides (इसके अलावा)

Eg. A talented artist, he was, moreover, a writer of some note.

148. (a) at

Specially किसी को देखने या examine करने के लिए look के साथ 'at' का use किया जाता है अतः यहाँ correct option (a) at होगा। यहाँ Harsh के Ravi को देखने की बात हुई है इसलिए option (b) opposite (विपरीत) व option (c) through irrelevant option है जबकि look के साथ 'in' का use किसी से short visit पर मिलने जाने के लिए होता है और यह अर्थ भी यहाँ irrelevant है।

Vocabulary Point

Look at someone/something : To direct your eyes towards someone or something so that you can see them. (किसी की तरफ देखना)

Eg. He turned and looked at her.

Look in (on somebody) : To make a short visit to a place, especially somebody's house when they are ill or need help.

Look back : Think of the past (अतीत के बारे में सोचना)

Look up : Search a word in a book/dictionary

Look forward to : To wait eagerly (उत्सुकता से प्रतीक्षा करना)

149. (a) immediately

Ravi के action को देख कर Harsh तुरन्त Ravi के intention समझ गया था इसलिए Option (a) 'immediately' correct answer होगा।

Immediately : Without delay (तुरन्त, बिना देर किए)

Eg. She answered almost immediately.

Option (b) Keenly, Option (c) Urgently (अतिमहत्वपूर्ण) दोनों Irrelevant है।

Keenly : In an eager or enthusiastic manner. (उत्सुकता से)

Eg. She is waiting keenly for her son.

Urgently : In a way which requires immediate action or attention. (अतिमहत्वपूर्ण, तुरन्त)

Eg. Housing is urgently needed.

Option (d) Cleverly red-herring है।

Cleverly : In an intelligent, original or skillful way (होशियारी से)

Eg. A very cleverly worded letter.

150. (d) creating

Sentence 'Active voice' में है इसलिए 'was' के साथ V+ing form use होगी। क्योंकि was/were "past continuous tense" की Helping verbs है। अतः Option (d) Creating correct answer होगा।

Eg. I was doing my job perfectly.

बाकी options grammatically incorrect है।

Answer Key

151.(b) 152.(a) 153.(d) 154.(a) 155.(b)

Finest : बेहतरीन

Given sentence में Bhupen khakar को अभी तक जितने लोगों से मिला उनमें सबसे बेहतरीन बताने का भाव है। सभी में से एक को सबसे बेहतरीन बताने के लिए superlative degree का use किया जाता है।

Article 'the' के बाद adjective की superlative degree का use किया जाता है। One of के बाद किसी adjective को रखना हो तो उसे Superlative में होना चाहिए।

Structure :

One of + Superlative degree

Eg. This painting is one of the finest works. I have ever done.

Positive व Comparative degrees के साथ generally 'The' नहीं आता, अतः Options (a) व (d) grammatically incorrect है।

The के साथ few आ सकता है लेकिन paragraph की tone appreciation है अतः प्रशंसा भाव के लिए finest ही correct option होगा। अतः Option (c) red-herring है।

Vocabulary Point

Few = ना के बराबर I have few friend

A few = कुछ = A few friends of mine lives in Delhi

The few = कुछ किंतु सारे = The few friends I have, were all present on my wedding day

152. (a) a lot

Option (a) 'A lot' एकमात्र option है जो grammatically सही है। option (b) व (d) comparative degrees है जो सामान्यतः 'The' के साथ use नहीं की जाती। जबकि option C 'A lots' है जबकि 'lots' से पहले 'A' का use wrong है। अतः बाकी तीनों options grammatically incorrect है।

A lot : To a very great degree or extent. (बहुत)

Eg. I feel a lot better.

Note : हालांकि जब दो चीजों में समानुपाती परिवर्तन की स्थिति होती है तब Double comparative sentences का Use किया जाता है।

Structure :

The + Comparative + Subject + Verb, the + Comparative + Subject + Verb

Eg. The more you study, the more confused you get.

153. (d) would have

Past के routine action को show करने के लिए V2nd / Used to + V1st / would + V1st का भी use किया जाता है।

Eg. I would play with my friends a lot during vacations.

[Option (a) would के बाद हमेशा V1st form use होती है ना कि V3rd. Past की बात हो रही है इसलिए (b) व (c) भी सही नहीं है।]

अतः बाकी options grammatically incorrect है

154. (a) still

Blank के बाद remember 'verb' आई हुई है। और action past से present तक extend हुआ है अतः 'अभी तक याद है' के अर्थ में 'still remember' option 'A' ही correct option होगा।

Still (Adv.) : Even now (अब तक)

Eg. He still lives with his mother.

Option (b) Until (जब तक) तथा option (d) Alone (अकेला) Irrelevant है। Option (c) Never (कभी नहीं) factually wrong है।

155. (b) was

'Caretaker' singular है तथा past के बारे में बात हो रही है इसलिए singular verb (was) का use होगा।

बाकी options grammatically incorrect है।

156. (d) drop

Blank से पहले Modal 'would' का use किया गया है। Modal के बाद हमेशा V1st form का use किया जाता है।

Eg. I would not allow him to go alone.

बाकी options grammatically incorrect है।

Hunter-gatherer culture was the way of life for early humans until around 11,000 to 12,000 years ago. The lifestyle of hunter-gatherers was 156 on hunting animals and foraging for food. Anthropologists 157 discovered evidence for the practice of hunter-gatherer culture 158 modern humans (Homo sapiens) and their distant ancestors dating 159 as 160 back as two million years ago. Before the 160 of hunter-gatherer culture, earlier groups relied on 161 practice of scavenging animal remains that predators left 162. #### Passage

Nothing, not even the angry, red eruptions on her face and body, will stop Sneha from aiming for her "dream job". "I love the Indian Army," says the 18-year-old, as she sits by herself under one of the canopies at the Chhatrapati Shivaji Stadium of the Maratha Light Infantry Regimental Centre in Belagavi, Karnataka. Outside the enclosure, around 35 women run on the 400-m track. A day earlier, Sneha had cleared her ground tests - a 1.6-km race that had to be completed in eight minutes or less, high jump and long jump - and physical fitness tests, when she was diagnosed with chickenpox. Now on medication for the pox, she is back at the stadium for a medical examination as part of the recruitment process. As she waits for her turn, isolated from the other women, Sneha, says, "I had no fever when I left home in Kerala. Even when I reached Belagavi and got these pimples, I did not think much of it. So I came for my physical and ground tests." Accompanied by her mother and uncle, Sneha, who is pursuing a computer course in her hometown Iritty, about 41 km from Kannur, made the 611-km journey from home to Belagavi spending eight hours in a bus and three hours on a train. She is among the 850-odd women, many of whom have travelled several hundred kilometers, to turn up at the first-ever recruitment rally for women to the Indian Army's Corps of Military Police. The recruitment of women as Soldier General Duty (Women Military Police) marks the first time that women will be taken in not only as officers, but as soldiers, giving them an opportunity to be involved in active military duties. As personnel of the military police, the women soldiers will be responsible for investigating offences such as molestation, theft, and rape; "assisting in the maintenance of good order and discipline"; and in custody and handling of prisoners of war - essentially combat-support operations. The move is part of a slow opening up of avenues for women in the armed forces. In his Independence Day speech last year, Prime Minister Narendra Modi had said women officers recruited into the armed forces under the Short Service Commission would be given the option of taking up permanent commission a "gift" to India's "brave daughters". Following a notification issued by the Army on April 25, around 15,000 women registered for the recruitment rally at Belagavi, the first of five such to be held across India to fill 100 positions in the Military Police. The Belagavi centre catered to candidates from the southern states of Karnataka, Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh and Telangana and the Union Territories of Lakshadweep, Andaman and Nicobar and Puducherry. Of the 15,000 aspirants, about 3,000 were short-listed on the basis of their Class 10 marks, with the cut-off set at 86 per cent. Of the short listed candidates, only about one-third turned up at the Belagavi centre between August 1 and 5 at the date and time assigned to them. Just then, outside the enclosure where Sneha is sitting, a shrill whistle pierces the air and another batch of girls takes off feet on the wet ground, mostly bare, making a dash for their place in history. "Does everybody understand English?" asks Major Chaudhry and the group of 30 women, sitting on red carpets on the ground, bellows: "Yes".

Passage

At a number of places in the Kashmir Valley, security forces have put coils of razor wire on roads to enforce restrictions on movement. Concertina wire or razor wire fences are used along territorial borders and in areas of conflict around the world, to keep out combatants, terrorists, or refugees. The expandable spools of barbed or razor wire get their name from concertina, a hand-held musical instrument similar to the accordion, with bellows that expand and contract. Concertina wire coils were an improvisation on the barbed wire obstacles used during World War I. The flat, collapsible coils with intermittent barbs or blades were designed to be carried along by infantry, and deployed on battlefields to prevent or slow down enemy movement. The Englishman Richard Newton is credited with creating the first barbed wire around 1845; the first patent for "a double wire clipped with diamond shaped barbs" was given to Louis François Janin of France. In the United States, the first patent was registered by Lucien BSmith on June 25, 1867, for a prairie fence made of fireproof iron wire. Michael Kelly twisted razor wires together to form a cable of wires. The American businessman Joseph F Glidden is considered to be the father of the modern barbed wire. He designed the wire with two intertwined strands held by sharp prongs at regular intervals. Barbed wire was initially an agrarian fencing invention intended to confine cattle and sheep, which unlike lumber, was largely resistant to fire and bad weather. An advertorial published in the US in 1885 under the title 'Why Barb Fencing Is Better Than Any Other', argued that "it does not decay; boys cannot crawl through or over it; nor dogs; nor cats; nor any other animal; it watches with Argus eyes the inside and outside, up, down and lengthwise; it prevents the 'ins' from being 'outs', and the 'outs' from being 'ins', watches at day-break, at noontide, at sunset and all night long..." Barbed wire was put to military use in the Siege of Santiago in 1898 during the Spanish American War, and by the British in the Second Boer War of 1899-1902 to confine the families of the Afrikaans-speaking Boer fighters. World War I saw extensive use of barbed wire and German military engineers are credited with improvising the earliest concertina coils on the battlefield. They spun the barbed wire into circles and simply spread it on the battlefield. Without using any support infrastructure like poles etc. this was more effective against the infantry charge by Allied soldiers. The fence erected by India along the Line of Control to keep out terrorist infiltrators consists of rows of concertina wire coils held by iron angles. They are now commonly seen and are used to secure private properties as well.

Passage

Last week, scientists from all corners of India descended on Ahmedabad to remember the architect of India's space programme, a man whom the late president, APJ Abdul Kalam, had famously termed "Mahatma Gandhi of Indian Science". They were there to launch celebrations on the birth centenary of Vikram Sarabhai, 47 years after his death at the age of 52, by when he had founded 38 institutions that are now leaders in space research, physics, management and performing arts. Former director of the Space Applications Centre Pramod Kale was a 19-year old science graduate from MS University of Baroda, besotted by space technology, when he first met Sarabhai. "In May 1960, I went to Ahmedabad to meet Dr. Sarabhai. I met him and ended up talking for two hours," Kale says. By June that year, Kale had done exactly as Sarabhai had advised him and taken up a master's course at Gujarat University. In 1962, when Sarabhai was looking at studying the magnetic equator, Kale went on to be among the first few to go to NASA to learn radar tracking. The room resounded with many such memories. Former ISRO chairman K Kasturirangan remembered how they ran into some trouble at the Physical Research Laboratory (PRL), founded in 1947 by Sarabhai, in their attempts to fly a balloon at 4 am, when in sailed Sarabhai. "He told us had the flight been successful, you would not have learnt even half of what you learnt because of that initial problem," said Kasturirangan. Many of those who had collected in Ahmedabad in Sarabhai's memory were teenagers when they first met him. Gandhinagar-based entrepreneur K Subramanian was 19 and a student of National Institute of Technology, Tiruchirappalli, working on a summer project at PRL, when a man in a kurta-pyjama walked in and began turning all the wastepaper bins upside down, inspecting their contents and putting them back again. "I asked a colleague who that was and was told it is Dr Vikram Sarabhai. He had come to check how much waste the lab was generating," laughs Subramanian. Born to Ambalal and Sarla Devi, Ahmedabad's leading textile-mill owners, Vikram Sarabhai showed creative promise early. He was 15 when he built a working model of a train engine with the help of two engineers, which is now housed at the Community Science Centre (CSC) in Ahmedabad. The CSC was Vikram's way of providing other children the privileges he had, of experimental research, says his son Kartikeya, 71, adding how his father wished to work with children at the science centre after he retired. "He was essentially a researcher, and believed that people, especially children, should be allowed to think freely and come up with solutions on their own," recalls Kartikeya, who founded the Centre for Environment Education in 1984. Kartikeya is carefully piecing together all the dog-eared notes he is discovering in the recesses of their three grand homes - Shanti Sadan, The Retreat and Chidambaram. To inspire the young to dream like Sarabhai, Kartikeya is building a permanent exhibition gallery on the Sabarmati River front, expected to open this November.

Passage

A great water scarcity looms over India; by 2025 Indians will get just over half the water they get today. This grave problem has a simple solution. Catch the rain as it falls, and the water crisis will disappear. However, about 80 per cent of India's rainfall buckets down during the three months of the monsoons. As yet, no government programmer has discovered how to store this water. 'Dying Wisdom', a seven-year countryside study by Delhi's Centre for Science and Environment, reveals that ruins of amazing ancient technologies survive in every corner of India. Drip-irrigation systems of bamboo pipes in Meghalaya; 'kunds', underground tanks in Rajasthan; 'pynes', water channels built by tribals in Bihar; and thousands of open-waterbodies down south are all superb examples of rain water harvesting systems. Even today, tanks called 'eris' in Tamil Nadu water one-third of the state's irrigated area. Unfortunately, governmental planners mostly refuse to acknowledge the potential of these low-cost systems, concentrating on costly dams and canals. Few cities have lost touch with their ecological traditions as fast and with as damaging results as Bangalore. Only 17 of its water bodies struggle to survive in a city where once 200 lakes, ponds and wetlands cooled the city and recharged its ground water. The threats continue unabated as the relentless march of urbanization shows no sign of stopping.

Passage

Just storms of May 2018, in Northern India, contributed to the deteriorating air quality in the region and the capital city of Delhi, with implications for human health, a study found. The high death toll from the severe dust storms that lashed the region was mainly attributed to the intense winds, which surprised even scientists and meteorologists. But apart from the immediate damage to life and property, drastic changes in air quality from the dust engulfing the region affected far more people with potential implications for human health, stated a team of researchers who analysed the impact of the spell of dust storms that struck the region that month. They reported increases in particulate matter, mainly in Delhi and urged for an early warning system. Dust storms commonly occur in the Indo-Gangetic Plains the fertile plains in northern India that stretch all the way to the East from March to May, the pre-monsoon season. Westerly winds typically bring loose sand and soil particles, picked up from the Arabian Peninsula or the Thar Desert in North Western India, to the Indo-Gangetic Plains. The dust tends to worsen air quality over the Indo-Gangetic Plains, home to around 900 million people, which can have far-reaching effects on human health. While dust storms are a regular feature in the region, the May 2018 dust storms specifically had a death toll of about 100 people, with around 200 people injured. "We are concerned that the dust impacts the health of people who get exposed," said a senior professor. However, he also observed that scattered rains occurring soon after the dust storms tend to clean up the dust, improving air quality. During October-November, densely populated cities like Delhi and Kanpur in the Indo-Gangetic Plains are vulnerable to wind borne long-range air pollution from crop residue burning in the North, and now this study shows the effect of dust storms during the March-May time frame," Sarkar pointed out. "This really puts the Indo-Gangetic valley in a unique spot in terms of it being targeted by these different hazardous conditions which are mostly outsourced from other areas."

Passage

Parents all over Iceland's capital Reykjavik embark on a two-hour evening walk around their neighbourhood every weekend, checking on youth hangouts as a 10 pm curfew approaches.

The walk in Reykjavik is one step toward Iceland's success into turning around a crisis in teenage drinking. Focusing on local participation and promoting more music and sports options for students, the island nation in the North Atlantic has dried up a teenage culture of drinking and smoking. Icelandic teenagers now have one of the lowest rates of substance abuse in Europe. The Icelandic Centre for Social Research and Analysis, the institute pioneering the project for the past two decades, says it currently advises 100 communities in 23 countries, from Finland to Chile, on cutting teenage substance abuse. "The key to success is to create healthy communities and by that get healthy individuals," said Inga Dora Sigfusdottir, a sociology professor who founded the Youth of Iceland programme, which now has rebranded as PlanetYouth. The secret, she says, is to keep young people busy and parents engaged without talking much about drugs or alcohol. That stands in sharp contrast to other anti-abuse programmes, which try to sway teenagers with school lectures and scary, disgusting ads showing smokers' rotten lungs or eggs in a frying pan to represent an intoxicated brain. "Telling teenagers not to use drugs can backlash and actually get them curious to try them," Ms Sigfusdottir said. In 1999, when thousands of teenagers would gather in Reykjavik every weekend, surveys showed 56% of Icelandic 16-year-olds drank alcohol and about as many had tried smoking. Years later, Iceland has the lowest rates for drinking and smoking among the 35 countries measured in the 2015 European School Survey Project on Alcohol and Other Drugs. On average, 80% of European 16-year-olds have tasted alcohol at least once, compared with 35% in Iceland, the only country where more than half of those students completely abstains from alcohol. Denmark, another wealthy Nordic country, has the highest rates of teenage drinking, along with Greece, Hungary and the Czech Republic, where 92% to 96% have consumed alcohol. In the US, teen drinking is a significant health concern, because many US teenagers are driving cars and do not have access to good public transport like teenagers in Europe. Reykjavik mayor Dagur B. Eggertsson said the Icelandic plan "is all about society giving better options" for teens than substance abuse. He believes the wide variety of opportunities that now keep students busy and inspired has dramatically altered the country's youth culture. Local municipalities like Reykjavik have invested in sport halls, music schools and youth centres. To make the programmes widely available, parents are offered a 500 US dollar annual voucher toward sports or music programmes for their children. Researchers say the Planet Youth prevention model is evolving constantly because it is based on annual surveys to detect trends and measure policy effectiveness. By law, introduced when Icelandic police routinely dealt with alcohol-fuelled street gatherings, children under 12 are not allowed to be outside after 8pm without parents and those 13 to 16 not past 10pm. "We tell the kids if they are out too late, polite and nice, and then they go home," said Heidar Atlason, a veteran member of the patrol. Over Iceland's harsh winter, one parent admits, evenings sometimes pass without running into any students.

Passage

Mount Everest, the world's highest peak at 8,848 metres, draws adventurers from all over. But the mountain on the Nepal-China border is fast becoming a dangerous place to visit even for the hardened mountaineer. The inherent risks were highlighted with a photograph by Nirmal Purja, a Gorkha ex-soldier. The image, which went viral and altered the manner in which people worldwide imagine what it is to scale Mt. Everest, showed a long queue awaiting a final tilt at the summit, with all the dangers such a wait holds. In the 2019 season, at least 11 climbers have died or gone missing, including four Indians. Experts have been calling for Nepal to restrict the number of permits. It awarded a record 381 for this spring each fetching $11,000 (climbing from the Tibet side is more expensive). On 22nd May, 200 climbers ascended the summit, a new record for a single day. Last year, 807 managed to reach the summit. In 2012, the United Nations estimated that there were more than 26,000 visitors to the Everest region, and this figure has grown manifold since then. Nepal officials argue that permits are not issued recklessly, and that jams such as this year's near the summit are on account of spells of bad weather, which result in mountaineers being compelled to reach the summit within a narrow time frame. Waiting in sub-zero temperatures at rarefied altitude can be fatal-- this season's deaths were mostly due to frostbite, exhaustion, dehydration and lack of oxygen. This year's drama has caught public imagination, as happened in 1996 when eight persons died in a single day amid an unexpected storm - events of and around that day were the subject of Jon Krakauer's best selling book 'Into Thin Air'. The adventure industry that is built around the human desire to scale the peak has meant many amateurs take up the challenge, confident that support teams and specialized equipment will make up for their lack of adequate mountaineering experience. The fallout is that in case of a disaster not only are some of them unable to manage but they also hold up others, putting them in harm's way. The commercial operations have led to the Everest being called the world's highest garbage dump as many climbers discard non-critical gear, used oxygen cylinders, plastic bottles, cans, batteries, food wrappings, fecal matter and kitchen waste on the mountains. It is unlikely, however, that this season's tragedies will deter future summiteers, as the hypnotic lure remains intact. But the authorities must learn from this year's tragedies and work out an optimum number of climbers and strengthen safety measures.

Passage

Brain training is big business. From online websites to video games to mobile apps, it seems like there are plenty of ways to give your brain a bit of a boost. But does all this brain training really work? Can it increase your cognitive abilities or your IQ? According to a few recent studies, while these brain training tools might help sharpen your abilities to retain information, they won't necessarily increase your intelligence or improve your ability to reason and think abstractly. The parent company of one of the most prominent "brain training" websites was recently fined for deceptive advertising. According to the complainant, the company suggested its games could reduce or delay cognitive impairment such as one might find in Alzheimer's patients, which is false. So while there may be some benefits to brain training, don't expect miraculous results. Earlier studies have found no link between increased intelligence and brain training exercises. Same is the case with standardized tests. Students today take a wide variety of standardized tests, from assessments throughout elementary school to evaluations required for college admission. While test preparation for such assessments can increase factual knowledge, one study suggests that this preparation does little to increase overall IQ. Why is it so? While test preparation increases what psychologists refer to as crystallized intelligence, it does not increase what is known as fluid intelligence. Crystallized intelligence includes facts and information, while fluid intelligence involves the ability to think abstractly or logically. In a study published in the journal Psychological Science, researchers looked at the IQ scores and test scores of approximately 1,400 eighth-grade students. While schoolwork helped increase the students' test scores, it had no effect on measures of fluid intelligence. The authors suggest that fluid intelligence is a much better indicator of abilities such as problem solving ability, abstract thinking skills, memory capacity, and processing speed. While the study found no indicator that test preparation improved IQ, that does not mean that this preparation has no value. Research clearly shows that having high scores on standardized tests is linked to having high scores on other important tests including Advanced Placement tests, the SAT etc.

- (a) making false claims
- (b) causing Alzheimer's disease
- (c) helping improve learning ability

 Leading (Adj.) most important (प्रमुख)
Eg. The leading causes of death are heart disease and cancer.
- Note: Causes के पहले article 'the' का use होगा क्योंकि cause को आगे extra details देकर define किया गया है।
45. (b) "The" in place of 'a'.
 a meeting कोई भी meeting, लेकिन यहाँ किसी खास meeting की बात हो रही है जिसके खत्म होने पर subject (I) ने realize किया कि people weren't listening to him. इसलिए 'The meeting' आएगा।
 'a + noun' किसी भी/कोई भी random noun के लिए use होता है।
 'The + noun' किसी specific noun के लिए use होता है।
Draw to an end/draw to a close : To come to an end (खत्म होना)
Eg. The sun is setting and the day is drawing to a close.
46. (a) "were" in place of 'was'.
 Subject (officials) plural है अतः plural verb (were) का use किया जाएगा।
47. (d) "disturb" in place of 'disturbs'.
 do/does/did के बाद हमेशा V1st form का use किया जाता है।
Eg. I did not like his calling me by my nick name.
48. (b) "Congratulated" in place of 'congratulates'.
 जब दो action past में हुये हो किन्तु दोनों के मध्य time interval ना के बराबर हो तो दोनों में ही past simple का use किया जाता है।
Eg. I loved history when I was at School.
49. (d) "are planning to go" in place of 'are plan to go'.
 is/am/are present continuous tense की helping verb है।
 इनके बाद V+ing form use की जाती है।
Eg. We are playing in the garden.
50. (a) "close" in place of 'closer'.
 'closer', comparative degree है और यहाँ comparison नहीं हो रहा है इसलिए positive degree (close) का use होगा।
*Eg. Swati lives closer than Anamika.
 Nilam is my close friend.*
51. (c) "addicts" in place of 'addict'.
 'addict' countable है तथा आगे plural verb (are) use हुई है इसलिए subject plural होगा।
 Most of + plural noun + plural verb.
*Eg. Most of the students are from Rajasthan.
 Most of + uncountable + singular verb.
 Eg. Most of the building is decayed.*
52. (b) Thinking of buying
Think of/about doing something:-
 Think about to consider, the possibility of doing something. (कुछ करने की संभावना पर विचार करना)
Eg. I had never thought of becoming an actor.
 Option (a) am के बाद V+s/es का use किया गया है जो grammatically wrong है।
 Option (c) am के बाद V3rd का use किया गया है। जिससे sentence passive हो जायेगा। जबकि subject active (doer of action) है।
 Option (b) correct answer है।
53. (a) that I gave you are mine.
 'Books' plural subject है इसलिए इसके लिए plural verb (are) का use होगा।
 Only option (a) में 'are' use हुआ है।
54. (d) few people.
 People 'countable' है इसलिए इसके साथ little/a little का use नहीं होगा बल्कि 'few'/'a few' का use होगा।
 Little/a little का use uncountable nouns के साथ किया जाता है।
Eg. There is a little milk in the jug.
 क्योंकि sentence Negative है Author 'well-known' नहीं था इसलिए Few (ना के बराबर) का use होगा।
 Few का use plural countable noun से पहले किया जाता है।
A few - Some, a small number. (कुछ लेकिन बहुत कम)
Eg. I need a few things from the store.
Few : Not many (ना के बराबर)
Eg. Few people understand the difference.

Grammar point:

Few, a few, the few

Little, a little, the little

ये सभी quantifiers होते हैं जिनका अर्थ— 'some' होता है। Little, singular uncountable nouns के साथ तथा few, plural countable nouns के साथ प्रयुक्त होता है।

Eg: (a) little time/food/money.

(b) few people/books/letters.

NOTE (i) : 'A little' या 'a few' का अर्थ होता है— "a small amount but it's enough."

Rose: Okay, I have a little money.

Enough for the cinema at least.

NOTE (ii) : 'Little' या 'few' का अर्थ भी एक तरह से small amount ही होता है लेकिन ये लगभग नगण्य होता है।

Money या friend etc. nouns के लिए जब little या few प्रयुक्त होता है तो इसका अर्थ होता है— don't have enough (पर्याप्त मात्रा में ना होना)

NOTE (iii) :

• I'm very sad, I have few good friends.

Or

• I'm very sad, I have very few good friends.

(few की जगह very few भी प्रयुक्त किया जा सकता है।)

इन दोनों sentences का अर्थ यही है कि मेरे अच्छे दोस्त बहुत कम हैं अर्थात् न के बराबर हैं।

NOTE (iv) :

• I can't help you, I speak little English.

Or

• I can't help you, I speak very little English.

(इन दोनों sentences का भाव यह है कि मेरी English अच्छी नहीं है।)

NOTE (v) : निम्न sentences के अर्थ को ध्यानपूर्वक समझिए।

• I have little money.

(hardly any; अर्थात् मेरे पास बिल्कुल भी money नहीं है।)

• I have a little money.

(some money; अर्थात् मेरे पास कुछ money है।)

• Please give me the little money you have.

(not much but all of that; अर्थात् तुम्हारे पास जो थोड़े से पैसे हैं वो मुझे दे दो।)

• Few friends attended the party.

(hardly any friend; अर्थात् लगभग न के बराबर दोस्त party में आये।)

• There were a few friends present in the party.

(some friends; अर्थात् कुछ दोस्त party में आये।)

• He lost the few friends he had.

(Not many, but all of them; अर्थात् जो भी उसके थोड़े से दोस्त थे वो उससे अलग हो गये।)

55. (a) was able to meet.

given sentence, Active voice में है इसलिए 'being' का use नहीं होगा sentence past tense में इसलिए 'was' का use होगा।

56. (a) prefer to remain.

Sentence का basic structure:-

Subject + verb + object

The masses के लिए verb (prefer) का use होगा ना कि preferable (adj.) का। Subject (the masses) plural है इसलिए plural verb (prefer) का use होगा।

Eg. I prefer coffee to tea.

57. (b) leads to the development.

Subject (reading) singular है इसलिए singular form of verb (leads) का use किया जाएगा।

Lead to something : To have something as a result (परिणाम)

Eg. He carbon tax will inevitably lead to an increase in energy bills.

The events that eventually led to war

58. (a) to explain it to her.

(1) Ask somebody to do something : To tell somebody that you would like something to happen.

Eg. They were politely asked to leave the shop.

(2) To + V1st का use किया जाता है।

Eg. I am going to tell you a story.

अतः option (a) सही answer है।

59. (c) on the first floor.

On : At or near a place.

Eg. We lived on an estate.

A town on the coast.

On (Prep.) का use किसी surface के उपर की position को refer करने के लिए किया जाता है।

Eg. On the table, on the bench, on the roof.

Cardinal adjectives (first, second, last.....) के पहले Article 'the' का use किया जाता है।

Eg. This the first chapter.

Read the last line in the paragraph.

60. (c) takes me about.

'It' singular है इसलिए verb (takes) भी singular form में use होगी।

About : Almost, approximately (लगभग)

Eg. The price of that dress is reduced by about 5% percent.

61. (c) visited many.

'Terraces' plural countable noun है इसलिए इसके साथ (many) use होगा। 'much' का use नहीं होगा। much का use uncountable noun के साथ किया जाता है।

Eg. There is much Milk in the glass.

Sentence past में है इसलिए option (c) सही है।

जब दो actions past में हुये हो किन्तु दोनों के मध्य time interval ना के बराबर हो तो past simple का use किया जाता है।

Eg. When my parents were away, my grand mother took care of me.

62. (c) No improvement*63. (b) Like Chinese food very much.

Auxiliary verb Is/ am/ are के बाद V1st का use grammatically है।

Given sentence में Like को as a transitive verb use किया गया है जिसके बाद सदैव object की आवश्यकता होती है। अतः option (b) Answer होगा सही होगा।

Verbs with an object (transitive)

These verbs are mostly used transitively: Ask, describe, get, need, take, attend, discuss, like, raise, telephone, believe, emphasis, join, receive, use, buy, enjoy, lose, say, want, consider, expect, love, suggest, watch, contact, find, make.

Eg. You need a password to get access to the computer system.

65. (b) but didn't win any.

Sentence past में है इसलिए do/does का use नहीं होगा।

'but' contradiction को show करता है।

हालांकि movie 'The sixth sense' बहुत successful थी but उसने कोई भी academy award नहीं जीता जैसा कि Expected था इसलिए but didn't win any आया।

66. (d) shall most definitely.

Given sentence में underlined part के बाद verb 'come' आया है। Verb को modify करने के लिए adverb (definitely) का use होगा। option (b) and option (c) में adjective 'definite' का use किया गया है, इसलिए option (b) तथा option (c) grammatically wrong है।

Even if का use emphasis करने के लिए 'तो भी' के अर्थ में किया जाता है।

Even if : Used to say that if something is the case or not, the result is the same.

Eg. Even if you take a taxi, you'll still miss your train.

He's really funny, even if he's also rather arrogant.

Sentence का भाव है कि अगर Uma नहीं भी पहुँच पाई तो भी मैं (I) definitely आउँगा। अतः option (d) shall most definitely सही answer है।

Eg. The flight leaves in twenty minutes we'll never make it.

67. (b) was still insufficient.

was/were जब linking verb की तरह use होता है, तो इसके बाद noun phrase, adjective phrase और adverb phrase का use किया जाता है।

"Income" noun को qualify करने के लिये Adjective (insufficient) का use होगा।

Eg. - I was surprised. (Adj.)

68. (b) was to track.

Sentence का voice Active है। Passive में past continuous का structure was/ were + being + V3rd होता है। इसलिए option (a) गलत है।

'It' singular है तो इसके साथ plural helping verbs were या have का भी use नहीं हो सकता।

अतः option (b) सही answer होगा।

69. (d) am growing older.

Sentence present में है। इसलिए option (a) नहीं हो सकता है।

I के साथ 'has' का use नहीं होता।

क्योंकि वह grow कर रहा है इसलिए present continuous tense में होगा।

I के साथ present continuous tense में 'am' का use किया जाता है।

Eg. I am doing my job.

70. (d) No improvement*71. (a) No improvement.*72. (b) will remain trapped.

Modal (will) के बाद V1st form आती है।

option (c) गलत है।

Model + be + V3rd आती है। अतः option (a) भी गलत है।

Sentence 'past' में नहीं है।

अतः option (b) सही है। remain + adjective का use होता है।

Eg. Train fares are likely to remain unchanged to remain silent.

- (8) Raja swam among the sunken ships. (✓)
Raja swam between the sunken ships. (✓)
बिना किसी context के abstract form में देखा जाये तो ये दोनों sentence correct हैं लेकिन इनका भाव अलग-अलग है।

जब among प्रयुक्त होता है तो इसका भाव यह है कि Raja, sunken ships से घिरा हुआ है तथा चारों तरफ इधर-उधर sunken ships हैं उनके बीच में Raja तैर रहा था।

जब between प्रयुक्त होता है तो इसका भाव है कि Raja के बायीं तरफ कुछ sunken ships थे तथा दायीं तरफ भी कुछ sunken ships थे तथा Raja, middle में जो gap था उस gap में तैर रहा था।

- (9) जब people or things की बात collectively की जाये, बजाय की individually तो इस case में among प्रयुक्त होता है।

Eg: Her parents, among others, were worried about her travelling alone.

- Among other things, I still have to pack.

- (13) Between, जब adverb की भाँति प्रयुक्त होता है तो usually 'in between' आता है तथा दो या दो से अधिक points, objects को separate करने वाले space व time को denote करता है।
